CONDUCTORS' CASE REOPENS

One Defendant Admits Withholding Fares to Balance Cash Register

Testifies Fare Box and Rooke Gun Caused Discrepancies

That the only occasions when he had held out fares on cars of the local street railway were in making up discrepancies caused by the Rooke register or fare box being inaccurate and "over-charging" him was the substance of the testimony offered by John E. Wallace, one of the three conductors who have been on trial for several days for larceny from the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, when he took the stand in his own defense in police court today.

The trial of the three conductors, J. J. Kelley, Camille Choline and Wallace, occupied the greater part of last week. All three men are charged with holding out fares on various trips during September and the "operators" employed by the railway and Auditing and Inspection Co. of Philadelphia, offered testimony in regard to the alleged fare stealing. The defense, represented by Atty. Tierney, opened its case today.

The first witness called by the defense was John E. Wallace, one of the three defendants charged with stealing fares from the company.

In response to questions of Atty. E. J. Tierney, he said that he lived at 256 Appleton street and had worked on the local lines of the railway since July, 1918.

WELCOME HOME SAYS SOUTH END

Brilliant Parade Marks the Climax of Four-Day Celebration

Holiday Thousands Greet the Marchers as They Pass Along Familiar Streets

Lowell's South End threw open its doors, its streets and its hearts yesterday to its own service men and royally welcomed them back to persons and familiar scenes left behind whenever the call of country drowned out all others through the long months of war.

On street after street whole households gathered at the curb and formed unbroken lines through which tramped their boys in khaki and navy blue, with advance and rear guards of friendly organizations in escort.

The parade marked the climax of a celebration which had extended over three previous days and had embraced a territory extending from Tower's corner to the far limits of Gorham street and from Belvidere to the upper Highlands.

And what a day for parading! Bathed

SAUNDERS MARKET, INC. CHANGES HANDS

Saunders Market, Inc., generally admitted to be Lowell's largest retail provision store, has been sold to a group of business men headed by Walter S. Johnston, Gorham street baker, who will serve as president of the new company, and Cecil Keith, for a number of years identified with provision retailing in Nebraska, who will serve as treasurer and manager. Official announcement of the transfer of the entire property, including stock, fixtures, delivery wagons and good will, was made today following the passing of the final papers on Saturday night.

The new owners will operate the store under the firm name of the Saunders Market Co., and will make every effort to uphold the traditions of fair dealing which date back to the time when the late John F. Saunders began the regime of Saunders market. For the present the store will be closed to allow for thorough renovation, replenishing of stock, etc., and it is the belief of the new owners that the business will re-open on or about Oct. 24.

Arrest of Maker of Bombs Which Have Startled the Country Near

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Military authorities at Gary, Ind., the home of the big steel mills announced today that they hoped to have the maker of the Gimbel and other bombs which have startled the country in the past year, under arrest within a few hours.

Secret service men said they knew the name, habits and manufacturing methods of the individual who they claimed, has made most of these bombs. They announced also that they had uncovered a plot to assassinate the mayor of Gary, discovered great stores of dynamite near Gary and traced the printing of Red circulars to Indianapolis. They said they had arrested the men who blew up an entrance of the Chicago postoffice a year ago.

Premature announcement in a Chicago paper this morning of some features of the bomb story, military authorities at Gary said, had partly

MUST REMOVE CHIMNEYS

Purchasers of Razed Buildings on Auditorium Site Face Forfeiture

Unless the owners of the chimneys and various other remnants of the buildings which formerly stood on the site of the proposed memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street remove them at once, they will stand an excellent chance of forfeiting the property, according to an announcement of the auditorium commission today.

When the tenement houses that stood on the site were sold at auction the understanding was that the property should be removed within a specified time. This time has already expired and Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department is soon to erect a fence around the entire site. Persons who are found within the enclosure thus formed will be liable to prosecution for trespassing. For that reason it is essential that the chimneys and other debris be removed at once.

It is understood that the purchasers of the tenement property have resold much of the brick work and other materials to other concerns or individuals without warning them that the city would be cleared at once. This thwarted their plan for clearing out what they had reason to believe was one of the central committees of dynamiters in this country. This story said that Alexander Ivanoff had been arrested as the principal bomb maker. Colonel Mapez, commander of the federal troops at Gary, announced this forenoon that Ivanoff had not been arrested, but that authorities were looking for him.

Near the scene of that explosion of one of the bombs some months ago these authorities said was found a scrap of a newspaper printed in Chicago. The paper's entire subscription lists were obtained and the subscribers' names studied. Selections were made among these names as likely to lead to developments.

The peculiar style of manufacture with the ingenious contrivance of the is thought to account for the present situation. It is probable that the auditorium commission will let out the contract for the building of the structure at its next meeting and if this is done, the contractor will immediately come into possession of whatever is on the site. Therefore, immediate action on the part of those owning anything now standing on the site is decidedly essential.

Municipal Council Centres Its Interest on Pole Location Hearing

For the first time in several months the subject of finance was omitted entirely from this morning's meeting of the municipal council. Appearances and loans were never once broached during the session. Purely routine matters were considered, chief among which was a hearing on the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for a pole location in Pleasant street. Half a dozen remonstrants were on hand to air their views on the matter and it finally developed that if the remonstrants persist in their course they might endanger their own right to telephone service.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.10. Commissioner Murphy was absent. Hearings were held on the following petitions and they were later referred to Commissioner Morse: Carlton & Hovey, garage and gasoline, 21

TO ARBITRATE STEEL STRIKE

Labor's Demand Reported to Industrial Conference by Steering Committee

Committee of Six to be Chosen by Three Groups in Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Labor's demand that the nation-wide steel strike be arbitrated, was reported to the national industrial conference today by the steering committee of 15 without recommendations, but with the suggestion that if arbitration is undertaken the proposed committee of six be chosen by the three groups in the conference from members or non-members of the conference.

Thomas L. Chadbourne, chairman of the committee announced that two groups in the committee opposed the resolution proposing arbitration but that a majority of all the members of the committee favored it.

There was no immediate action on the report, the conference adjourning for an hour after there had been a sharp debate over interpretation of the rules.

John Spargo of New York proposed that labor's demand for arbitration of the steel strike be referred back to the committee of 15 but this motion was defeated. The conference then adjourned until 2.30 p. m.

Longshoremen Refuse to Return — Teamsters' Strike Brings Embargo

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—With at least 220,000 workers either on strike or idle as the result of strikes, according to union estimates, New York today faced the prospect of a serious food shortage rendered imminent by the refusal last night of the longshoremen to return to work and the continuance of the teamsters' strike.

President T. V. O'Connor of the International Longshoremen's Association said that the various locals would now take a referendum vote on the question of returning to work. O'Connor said that he still had hopes that the serious thinking men in the organization will see that a mistake has been made in trying to repudiate their word given to the government and to the people and that they will yet abide by the decision of the national adjustment commission.

The walkout of the 11,000 teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers has caused the American Railway Express Co. to place an embargo on all express packages entering and leaving the city. Virtually all of the fish, vegetables and other perishable food are shipped here by express. The strike of the longshoremen, harbor and ferryworkers has caused food to rot on the docks and in ships. No coal has reached here for several days. Some milk and vegetables have reached the city by circuitous routes.

The industrial unrest in the city is shown in a statement by Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

THE TREMONT TRUST COMPANY

35 COURT ST., BOSTON

Dear Friends:

Is there not something unfair in the policy of those bankers who take the earnings of the people, deposited in their Savings Department, and who decline to pay interest upon them oftener than once in three or six months, while they at the same time charge interest to borrowers from the moment a loan is made until it is repaid? These bankers DEMAND INTEREST on every penny for every day they loan, but PAY INTEREST to depositors only as they choose.

Let us take a case for illustration. A hard working man saved up a few dollars and deposited his savings in the bank against a rainy day.

Sickness came and upon going to the bank to draw out his savings, he learns that no interest will be paid him for a period of several months. The reason given is that the interest date set by the bank had not arrived. And this notwithstanding that the bank had not only the use of the deposit all the time but had actually earned money on it.

But the Tremont Trust Company, strong financially, managed by men you know, recognizes the unfairness of a system which thus penalizes depositors. They practice the Golden Rule.

The Tremont Trust is paying interest, computed and compounded MONTHLY. A Savings Depositor does not have to wait three or six months for the payment of his or her interest. It is credited every month to the account of the depositor, and interest is paid ON interest. Because of this liberal treatment, the Tremont Trust Company has paid interest at the rate of

MORE THAN 4 1/2 %

Savings Depositors in the Tremont Trust Company May Withdraw deposits at any time practically without loss of any interest. The Tremont Trust Company feels that the depositor's money belongs to him or her, and that he or she has a right to take it out at any time for any purpose without losing interest.

You may open an account with the Tremont Trust Company by mail. You do not have to come in person, although the Officers will be glad to welcome you. You get exactly the same treatment as those who come personally to our new quarters, most centrally located at 35 Court Street, Boston, opposite City Hall Annex.

Checking accounts, too, are solicited. We also maintain a well equipped Foreign Exchange Department and modern Safe Deposit Vaults.

Open Saturday evenings until ten o'clock.

ENDURANCE TEST RIDE LOWELL WOMAN NAMED

14 Riders and Horses on Trip From Fort Ethan Allen to Camp Devens

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 11.—Fourteen riders and horses started this morning at 7 o'clock on the 300 mile endurance test ride from Fort Ethan Allen to Camp Devens which will take five days. The ride is an attempt at a step toward solving the question of what is the best breed of horses for cavalry mounts and in the list of entries are Arabs, Morgans and thoroughbreds. Among the riders who started today is Albert W. Harris, president of the Harris Trust Co. of Chicago. The clerk of the course is David Gray, novelist, and the judges are Harry Worcester Smith, one of the best known horsemen here and in Europe; Major Henry Leonard, U.S.A. and Maj. Benton, U.S.A. The riders and their mounts had a 40 mile journey ahead of them for the first day. The course lay over hilly roads to Northfield, where the first night's stop will be made. Kingsher, an Arab gray bay gelding of eight years, standing 14.3 hands high, which carried Col. Frank Tompkins farthest south into Mexico in the hunt for Villa was among the mounts which took up the long hike. Col. Tompkins, now president of Norwich university, was the rider.

Connecticut Woman Strongly Recommends Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"If people who are suffering from stomach trouble would take a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I am sure that there would be a great deal less suffering," says Mrs. Lottie Daley, who lives at No. 318 Brunell street, Bridgeport, Conn. "I say this because my own experience with this remedy has proved its effectiveness. Repeated attacks of indigestion had weakened me so that I couldn't walk across a room. I suffered from smothering sensations when I attempted to do any work and couldn't sleep well. My body ached all over and each day found me a little weaker. My brother recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and I procured a box. In two weeks I saw an improvement in my condition and it wasn't long before my stomach had become so much stronger that I could eat a good meal without after-digestion of any kind. As I gained strength the smothering sensations disappeared and I sleep soundly now. I shall never be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write for the free booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat"—Adv.

South End Welcome Home

In autumnal glory and warm sunshine, fair skies formed a rich, blue canopy above. It was as if the Great Provider had looked down upon the spirit which permeated and prompted it and pronounced it good and sent a day of rare beauty to adorn it. Holiday thousands poured through the city streets and lined the long route of march. Although the parade was South End in inception and largely so in participation, the engendered interest was city-wide and those living outside the imaginary boundary lines joined in the welcoming chorus with a fervor every whit the equal of that shown by those to whom the district is "home, sweet home."

A Deeper Meaning

The parade was not long as parades go nowadays, consuming scarcely 20 minutes to pass a given point, but it was a parade with a purpose. Those who marched with the service men—semi-military, fraternal and civic organizations—were in line to do them honor, while those who watched extended the greetings of a thankful and worshipful community. The fanfare of drums, the martial music, tossing flags, floats and even lines of marching men all were a part of the message the boys flashed back in response to the tumultuous welcome—a welcome of gladness and appreciation.

The parade was just 23 minutes late in starting, but who cared? It was a day to be out of doors. From the starting point in Davis square the route of march led up Gorham street as far as the Edison cemetery, counter-march to Moore street, to South Whipple, to Lawrence, to Church, to Central, to Davis square again, to Gorham, to Middlesex, to Thorndike, to Appleton, to South and to the South common where the marshal's staff and guests reviewed it.

Police and Firemen

Once under way the long column moved right along, with only an occasional halt to slow it up. In the lead were 50 Lowell policemen headed by Supr. Redmond Welch. They looked well and marched finely and everywhere were greeted with applause. With the superintendent were Lieut. Bartholomew Ryan, Martin Maher and John Freeman and Sergt. Patrick Frawley.

Forty members of the fire department came next, each man wearing a carnation on the breast of his uniform. They were in command of District Chief Thomas F. Saunders and like their brothers-in-the-law, they were enthusiastically greeted.

Chief Marshal and Staff

The Lowell Military band, the first musical unit in line, was guided by John H. Condon, the tireless worker for the success of the affair and chairman of the committee on sports. ## They Have Found the Way to Beautiful Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth. It has been tested for years by able authorities in clinical and laboratory tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to every home in this city, and we urge every home to get it. Let it prove itself.

Film is What Discolors

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So it accumulates and may do a ceaseless damage.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. And now it is known why brushed teeth still discolor and decay. The reason lies in that clinging film which the old cleaning methods omit.

Cause of Decay

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus the film is the teeth's chief enemy.

It Can Be Ended

Dental science has for years sought a way to end that film, and the way has now been found.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

The way seems simple, but it is not. Pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth, so pepsin long seemed impossible.

What has been found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily and left between the teeth. And millions of teeth are now being cleaned as they never were before.

Watch the Effects

We ask you to watch the effects. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare this method with the old. Read the facts about it. Then decide for yourself what is best.

FREE

A Ten-Day Tube of Pepsodent, this week only, at any store named below.

Tartar and Stain are based on film. This 10-Day Test will show you that they are avoidable. And so is tooth decay.

Look in Ten Days See how white the teeth are—how they glisten. You can see that the film is gone. You will know that teeth can be kept forever whiter and cleaner and safer.

Commissioner Charles J. Morse and family occupied a machine next in line. The 101st Lads' Auxiliary was represented by Mrs. William H. Merritt, the president; Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. George Underwood. Paul Marshall was a happy mascot.

Memories of 1861 were refreshed by the appearance of three G.A.R. veterans who nodded appreciation as they passed. They were P. F. Brady, Post (2); John Gallagher, Post 120, and Charles E. Chase, Post 155.

FIRST DIVISION

It was only natural that the first division should be the focus point of all eyes. In it marched the men in whose honor the entire celebration was planned and they received full-hearted acclaim. At the head of the line marched Lieut. James H. Hogan, marshal. Close to 500 soldier and sailor boys were there, including fully 200 from Lowell Post of the American Legion.

As they have come drifting back by twos and threes ever since that day almost a year ago when an armistice brought relief to a war-weary world, they have received the welcome of relatives and friends, but yesterday was the first time the district has seen all its service men together and as a band of stalwart men they were accorded every honor.

The American Legion

The soldiers who preceded the Legion were divided into five platoons each in charge of a non-commissioned officer, as follows: First, Sergt. Paul Hartley; second, Sergt. Major Joseph P. Donahue; third, Sergt. Thomas H. Chinn; fourth, Sergt. Patrick H. Wallace; fifth, Private James E. Markham.

A band headed Post St. American Legion. The platoons of this organization were in command of Sergt. J. J. Devine, First Sergt. Daniel F. Murphy and Sergt. Paul Spillane. It was the first appearance of the Legion as a first division. The four telephone girls were Miss Nellie Snow, Miss Eugenie Racicot, Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Blane. The four army nurses were Misses Mary V. McCormack, Mary

V. Carr, Ella Quinn and Marguerite O'Dwyer.

A group of Spanish War Veterans, in full uniform, were commanded by William M. Prescott, with Richard Gibbons, senior vice commander; Patrick Burns, junior vice commander, and Adjutant Frank Dodge as associate leaders.

SECOND DIVISION

Marshal Francis J. Kierce of the Wolfe Tone Guards commanded the second division, which was headed by the Irish Volunteer Drum corps, Thos.

Daly, leader. Conspicuous in the forefront were the American colors and the green, white and orange of the Irish republic. The Wolfe Tone Guards came first with Lieut. Michael J. Monahan in command, while next to them were the Sheridan Guards in command of Lieut. Michael J. McDermott. Both organizations had several service men in their lines.

RETURN TO THE STATUS OF PEACE

Great Rejoicing Throughout France Marks First Day of Return of Peace

"Death" of Censor Celebrated—Civil Authorities Now in Control

PARIS, Monday, Oct. 13. (By the Associated Press.)—General rejoicing by the press over the death of "Anastase" as the censor has been called in France during the war, marked the first day of the return of a state of peace to France today. Military control not only of the press, but of all peace measures for the control of movements of travelers across the frontier as well as inside of France, the supervision of ports, restrictions on importations and other matters which have been in the hands of arms officers passed to civil authorities. The right of requisitioning was terminated and the military authorities also lost jurisdiction over certain crimes and misdemeanors, no longer having the right to search private property.

Lifting the state of siege, restoring municipal regulations to the police, will permit restaurants and cafes in Paris to remain open until 1 o'clock in the morning, but there seems to be some doubt whether this practice would be profitable. Parisians have during more than five years acquired the habit of retiring early and waiters are quite satisfied to have them continue this practice, as the night life of Paris does not yield the same revenue that it did before the war. Moreover the eight-hour law complicates the situation by requiring restaurants and cafes to engage additional help. Only on the boulevards where establishments are supported by foreigners do proprietors incline to insist upon keeping open until late at night.

Further comment on the resumption of diplomatic relations between France and Germany was provoked by the publication of the presidential decrees this morning. Paul Dasta, who acted as secretary of the peace conference, is still one of the most prominent men mentioned as the probable ambassador to Berlin. The well informed Echo de Paris says it had confirmation of the report that he has been selected for the post and that it is expected the German government will at once be asked to approve his nomination. Baron Kurt von Lersner, new German representative at Versailles, who has made a visit to the German embassy on Rue de Lille, is supposed to be Germany's choice as charge d'affaires pending the nomination of an ambassador. France will probably have a charge d'affaires in Berlin temporarily, and the name most frequently mentioned for this post is that of M. Clicheant, present charge d'affaires at Bern.

Question has been raised as to whether the suspicious German embassy should be considered as coming within the category of "German property abroad" that, according to the peace terms, must be applied to the payment of reparations.

Speculation as to the probable administrators in the Sarra valley names G. J. Alapette, former governor of Tunis, and now ambassador at Madrid.

It was noted on this morning that the return to the status of peace does not necessarily terminate the moratorium applying to debts, the government intending, it is said, to prolong the time within which the settlement of transactions, held in suspense since 1914, may be required. A question still to be settled is the rate of interest creditors may demand for sums due since the moratorium was first decreed. This point will probably be settled by legislation and the moratorium may be prolonged if action is not taken within the time limit fixed by the last decree extending the period of the suspension.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY AMAZES PEOPLE OF LYNN

H. H. Chandler, Once a Helpless Cripple From Rheumatism, Says He Owes Perfect Health to Var-Ne-Sis

The medical profession of Lynn, Mass., watched with keen interest the case of Mr. H. H. Chandler of 1A City Hall sq. Mr. Chandler had had public sympathy for some time and doctors had considered him an incurable cripple, due to the ravages of rheumatism.

His recovery, which Mr. Chandler attributed wholly to Var-Ne-Sis, was so remarkable that it attracted the attention of not only the medical profession, but of the press. All the facts therefore which are given for the benefit of those suffering from rheumatism, are now a matter of public record.

Testimony of the neighbors is to the effect that he was unable to turn over in bed unassisted. He suffered untold pain, having rheumatic arthritis in every joint. For the purpose of testing the truth of the statement made by so many sufferers from rheumatism that they had been made well with Var-Ne-Sis, the public was invited through the press to watch the course of treatment which Mr. Chandler would undergo.

Today, Mr. Chandler is not only free from rheumatic pains, but is perfectly well, able to work every day and would not be recognized as the same man by anyone who had seen him before taking this wonderful remedy. This case is but one of the hundreds of similar cases of rheumatic arthritis which have been relieved by the use of Var-Ne-Sis. Almost anybody in Lynn will testify to the truth of Mr. Chandler's recovery.

Var-Ne-Sis does effect relief in the case of rheumatism.

was very essential for Mr. Connors to have a telephone as he is subject to sudden calls from the board of health. He has no phone at the present time. If a pole is not erected in Pleasant street the wires will have to come from Concord or High street and if more wires are strung across the land there, the owners may object and they would all have to come down. He said that the remonstrants who have telephones themselves are endangering their own service by protesting against the erection of a pole. The matter was finally referred to Commissioners Marchand and Murphy.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for a pole location in A street at Puffer was held over for a hearing Oct. 23.

The petition of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation for four poles in East Merrimack street between the Eastern canal and Davidson street and for three poles in Dunbar avenue were also referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for permission to erect two poles in Cross street near Mt. Vernon street to give service to William Tighe, brought objections from Timothy F. O'Sullivan and Mrs. M. A. Tighe. The matter was finally ironed out, however, so that the objections were withdrawn and the matter referred.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for two poles in Dracut street between White street and Fourth avenue, was objected to by Mr. Kennedy on the assumption that the poles were to be on the same side of the street on which he lives. When it was brought out that they were to be on the other side of the street, the objection was withdrawn and the matter referred.

TO UNSEAT FITZGERALD

Formal Recommendation
That He Be Ousted and
Seat Awarded to Tague

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Formal recommendation that Representative John F. Fitzgerald of Massachusetts, former mayor of Boston, be ousted from his seat in the house was presented yesterday by an elections committee, headed by Representative Goodhall of Maine. A majority report proposed that Peter F. Tague, former representative from Massachusetts, be seated while Representative Fitzgerald, republican, Massachusetts, proposed that a new election be ordered by the house. House leaders last night agreed that the committee report should be called before the house next Saturday for final action.

Fitzgerald's plurality of 238 on the face of the returns was reduced to 10 by the committee's canvass of 1300 contested ballots and the discard of the votes cast in three precincts of the 5th ward of Boston on the ground that fully one-third were fraudulent. It was held by the committee majority, to give Tague the election by 232 votes. Certification of voters, illegal registration and fraud were the grounds given by the committee for its action.

Holding that it was impossible to show that Tague received a plurality and that the rejection of votes in three precincts was unjustifiable, Representative Luce urged that the house order a new election.

"Illegal registration of which Mr. Tague complains and which furnishes the only sufficient ground for vacating the seat," he declared, "was a continuation of the conditions that Mr. Tague twice accepted when to his advantage and that aroused his protest only when turned to his detriment. He may not profit by fraud in which he has conspired."

A TRUE LETTER

East Boston, Mass. The following letter may bring advice to other sufferers:
"Dr. J. F. True & Co.: Having heard that your medicine, Dr. True's Elixir, had been on the market for years and years, I thought possibly my ailments would be helped if I tried it. I have spent many dollars in trying to get a laxative which would agree with me—be pleasant to take and yet effective. At last I have Dr. True's Elixir. The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller.

For years I have had a poor appetite—any rich foods disagree with me and my headaches were frightful. I was troubled with tired feelings, nervous depression, weakness, spots before my eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness, and many other signs of sickness.
I can now do a day's housework and not mind it, and your Dr. True's Elixir is always handy—I don't know of a better laxative—I give it to my children with wonderful results—it relieves them of worms."

MRS. ABILEN WOODFORD,
31 LAUREN ST., Boston
The prescription, DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR, THE FAMILY LAXATIVE and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for sick people, men, women and children. At ALL DEALERS.—Adv.

SPACE DIRECT TAKES

SANARDO'S MEASURE

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—The Atlanta mare, Grace Direct, driven by Earl Beck, was the star performer of the opening of the Grand Circuit races at Lakewood park yesterday, winning the $2500 stake for 205 pacers over Sanardo, Murphy's star pacer. Grace Direct trailed Sanardo in the first two heats, then outdistanced the star of the Murphy stable in two rousing drives, the first heat in 2:02 1/2, the fastest mile of the day.

There were three starters in the 2:03 trot and this was easy for the black Canadian mare, Lou, driven by Joe Fleming. She led along in the rear to the stretch in all three heats, then came out and won easily.

Homefast, which won the pacing division of the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington last week, was the victor in the 2:12 pace. Driven by "Pop" Geers, she went out in front and won the first two heats rather easily from Wood Patch out the Murphy stable.

LOCAL ELEVEN BEATEN BY WOBURN HIGH

An inability to follow the ball and correctly size up plays directed at the extremities of its line accounted for the downfall of the Lowell high school football team at Woburn yesterday forenoon by the score of 17 to 6. Twice the Woburn boys scored on plays which swung wide around the Lowell ends, and the latter had been "sucked in" as for off-tackle smashes. A deep kick by Rice, Woburn quarterback, accounted for three more points.

Lowell's one touchdown came at the end of a steady advance of 60 yards during which an overhead game was well mixed up with straight football.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Many thousands of old and young keep their systems free from the dread consequences of constipation by taking Bliss Native Herb Tablets at regular intervals. Those who lead an active outdoor life take one occasionally while others whose work is confined and laborious and are more subject to that condition, retain their health by using them more frequently. Bliss Native Herb Tablets not only relieve constipation but stir up the liver and cleanse the blood of all fermentation, and restore them to a natural healthy, active condition. They also purify the blood and have a tonic effect on the whole system. One tablet at night will make the next day bright.

Bliss Native Herb Tablets are put in a large sized box containing 200 tablets, enough to last the average family six months. Every box carries our money back guarantee. Take no mark on every box.

Put up in two sizes, $1 and $1c. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Made by Alonzo O. Bliss Co., Washington, D. C.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

Best Baker in "Prevarication" features this week's bill at B. F. Kelth's theatre and two large audiences were put in roars yesterday at the antics of this venerable comedian. Mr. Baker is well along in years but his viewpoint is that of youth and he succeeds in injecting the spirit of optimism in his work.

Baker plays the part of one Benny Butler, a married man who has formed the unpropitious habit of lying continually to his wife. And like all of his kind, Benny got into deeper trouble every time he strayed from the straight and narrow path plotted by Mr. Wadsworth. He employs a clerk who in addition to his normal duties, is called upon at times to hear the brunt of Benny's wrong-doing. Eventually the rebels and then comes an exciting denouement for all concerned. A pretty girl dresses up the sketch pleasantly and it is enjoyable all the way through. "At the Sea Shore" is a ventriloquist novelty presented by Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace in a breezy style. The pair have been heard here previously but this year their act envelops a lot of new features. The scenic background is one of the most novel bits of illusion seen here in some time. It gives the appearance of a real up and down ocean with swimmers and boats making their way about the water. The life-saver dummy is one of Mr. McCormick's funniest characters. Miss Wallace is good to look upon and an expert in her line of work.

Two Jazz Beauties are Frank and Milt Britton who program says, and they certainly live up to their title. Nymphs, trombones and cornets figure largely in their act and there is jazz from beginning to end. Those who like this kind of music will get their fill of it from the work of the Brittons.

Sam Allen in "The New Taxi Star" offers a monolog strictly up to the minute in which features of present day life are commented upon freely and humorously. Laura Lyman makes a pretty assistant.

Gertrude Dudley and her company offer a classy jazz act with a little talk woven in. Miss Dudley is a 100 per cent blonde and makes a stunning appearance.

DeLano and Pike are expert tumblers and jugglers and their hand balancing is startling. They work in a lot of real comedy and at no time does their offering border on the mundane.

Harbrite introduces a lot of new trapeze features and opens the bill well.

OPERA HOUSE

"Polly With a Past," a side-splitting comedy drama in three acts by George Middleton and Guy Hutton, is the offering of the Lowell Players at the Opera House this week, and is one of the most mirth-provoking plays that Lowell theatre-goers have ever witnessed.

The first performance was yesterday afternoon and last evening were greatly enjoyed by large audiences and all indications point to big houses during the remainder of the week.

Going down to the story, the first thing one discovers is a young man, who is very much in love with a girl who doesn't seem to care for him in love with him. She's strong for social uplift, is this little girl, and believes that the best way to spend one's time is in throwing out the life-line to all the human derelicts one encounters.

So the lovesick young man, who is none other than the popular leading man, John Meehan, evolves a scheme, with the aid of his friends, to himself become a derelict, and thus induce his prospective fiancée to throw the life-line in his direction. Having a most model young man, and having none of the vices commonly ascribed to the sterner sex, this is something of a problem, but it is finally solved by persuading the young man's chum's housemaid to play the role of a French adventuress, who ensnares the lover in her toils, and thereby gives the uplift maiden a chance to "save" him.

We think we've told you enough about this pleasing little comedy now, and if you wish to find out who the wedding bells ring for at the end of the final act, just drop in to this cozy little playhouse some time this week and we'll guarantee you'll not feel disappointed. And, oh yes, we almost forgot to tell you—the housemaid was minister's daughter before she was elected to act as the "vamp" from gay Paris.

Miss Margaret Fields, the popular leading woman, who has been endearing herself to local audiences with each succeeding week, added even more friends last evening by her capable and happy treatment of the role assigned her, that of the minister's daughter who suddenly had a long and wicked past thrust upon her. John Meehan, who co-stars with Miss Fields in the leading characterizations, again proved that his reputation as a laugh-producer has been well-earned, and his finished interpretation of the part of the voracious lovesick young man won him the plaudits of the audience throughout the play. William Melville and Hal Crane, in the roles of the chums of the man who is "canned," also did their bit in helping to extract the fun from this enjoyable production.

Director Kirk's setting and production of "Polly With a Past," deserves a special word of commendation. Rarely have local audiences been treated to such splendid scenic effects and harmonious color schemes as this capable director displays this week and these were fully appreciated by those who attended the theatre yesterday afternoon and evening.

CELEBRATION ENDS

South End Committee Entertains Guests at Congratulatory Dinner

Greetings and congratulations, words of appreciation and hopes of continued success marked the dinner given for the members of the South End celebration committee and invited guests in Lincoln hall immediately after the dismissal of the parade yesterday noon.

In a manner it brought the four-day event to a close and as the men who had planned it sat about the tables and discussed an excellent menu, good fellowship was mixed with a feeling of satisfaction over a deed well done.

While these men were being dined at Lincoln hall, all of the clubs throughout the district were entertaining groups of soldiers and sailors and friends, the merry-making in several instances continuing well into the evening. The whole was a feast of congenial remembrance and many a toast was spoken in honor of the men in uniform.

The executive committee dinner was most complete and exceptionally well served and appetites whetted to a keen edge by the long walk and bracing October air were wholly satisfied. Daniel Cosgrove, chairman of the general committee, presided as toastmaster and among the speakers introduced were: following: Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., Rev. James Bancroft, Rev. Thomas Markham, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, chief marshal; Police Chief Redmond Welch, General Gardner W. Pearson, Lieut. Jackson Palmer, City Clerk Stephen Flynn, Hon. John T. Sparks, George Conaway, Joseph H. Gormley, Lieut. Charles E. Anderson.

Dinner was ready to be served by Mayor Harvey the moment the guests entered the hall, pygmy arrangements being in the capable hands of John J. Gilbride and Charles A. Donahue. As the dinner finished, Toastmaster Cosgrove introduced Mayor Thompson as the first speaker. His Honor said there was almost no limit to what a city might do for her service men and women and urged hearty co-operation in making civilian walks in life easier for the returned soldiers and sailors.

Rev. Dr. Keleher was the next speaker and he emphasized his heart-felt interest in the service men.

"I am old enough," he said, "to realize what you men went up against when you left the city and I realized the seriousness of the situation when the country declared war. I saw the 200 Italian parade in Rome, I saw the 400 British regiments parade in London and I saw the legions of France and Belgium. I also saw the Germans on parade and I will say I never saw a more magnificent body of fighting men until you got at them. I saw this country going into the struggle as one country and under one flag—the starry banner—and they all forgot their racial difficulties and whether or not they were in sympathy with our allies in arms. We saw you young fellows leaving home, wives and sweethearts to go into that struggle and you did not know what you were going into.

"And it was a magnificent sight to watch the multitude at home who were working for you every minute and backing you to the limit. Our churches were filled with fathers and mothers praying for your return, or praying that if you were called upon to make the supreme sacrifice your souls would be white in the face of God and praying that He might bring victory to your cause. And we have lived to see you return victorious and we are glad."

Other speakers followed in rapid order, each limiting himself to a few happy remarks, expressing appreciation if needed and thankfulness for co-operation in making the celebration such a success. Mrs. William H. Merritt, spoke for the 101st Ladies' Auxiliary.

Such a gathering would not be complete at such a time without a serious moment of thought for the boys who might have been in line yesterday, but who sacrificed all in democracy's cause. For 30 seconds the gathering rose and stood with bowed heads, out of respect for those who never will return.

As chairman of the general committee, Mr. Cosgrove expressed general appreciation of the efforts of all individuals and organizations who through generous donations of time and money took a helpful part in the celebration. The dinner came to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

On country roads the yielding earth cushions your feet against the jars of walking

According to figures for the latest five year period covered by the last census, the death rate in cities is 21.6% greater than in the country districts. The figures show 16.3 deaths per thousand in cities; 13.4 per thousand in the country.

On the hard, modern pavements of cities, every step on hard leather heels is pounding away your energy

Are you exposing yourself to the danger of "city diseases"?

CERTAIN diseases are so prevalent in cities that doctors call them "city diseases."

Tuberculosis, Bright's disease, heart trouble are ailments known to be common among people who live in cities.

In the last five year period covered by census figures, the death rate in cities is shown to be higher than in country districts by 21 per cent.

These conditions are due largely to the manner in which city people live. The average city worker spends at least five-sixths of his time indoors. If he is out-of-doors more than four hours in every twenty-four, he can count himself fortunate.

The city worker seldom walks. He travels from home to business in crowded cars or trains. He works all day stooped over a desk, a machine or a counter. Indeed, medical men state that the average city worker uses no more than a third of his lung capacity—that about 400 muscles of his body have actually become weakened through disuse.

Is it any wonder that we are susceptible to countless ailments; is it any wonder that the city death rate is so high under these conditions of living?

Walking, the one great exercise which every man should enjoy, has become a burden. Too often it contributes directly to that over-fatigued condition which makes the city dweller an easy prey to illness.

In his usual routine the average city worker takes 8,000 steps a day, on hard, modern floors and pavements. If you wear nail-studded leather heels you give your body 8,000 jolts and jars a day—for every step with hard heels on still harder pavements acts as a hammer blow to your entire nervous system. The constant repetition of these shocks exhausts your energy, helps to bring on over-fatigue, with its ever-present threat of serious illness.

Yet walking on hard pavements need not be any more fatiguing than walking on turf. Walking can easily be made a pleasure and a benefit.

Modern pavements are built for modern traffic. You can't bring back the yielding dirt streets of many years ago—the streets for which leather heels were made, but you can cushion your feet against the jolts and jars that make walking a burden. You can replace hard, old-fashioned heels with O'Sullivan's Heels of live, springy rubber.

What gives a rubber heel "life"

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's

Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

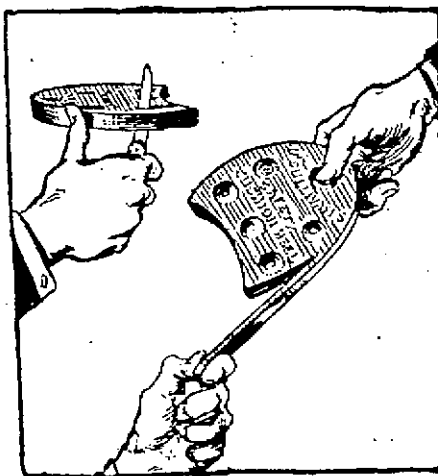

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

Guaranteed to outlast any other heels

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes. O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

If an O'Sullivan Heel is cut along the side so that a thin strip of rubber is left attached at one end, that strip will have great elasticity—it can be stretched several inches. With an ordinary rubber heel the material snaps in two before it has stretched to any great degree. This test proves the remarkable resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels.

One out of every four persons in greater New York wears O'Sullivan's Heels. Fully a quarter of New York's vast population finds that O'Sullivan's Heels prevent over-fatigue from the jolts and jars of walking.

South End Welcome Home

of the parade in variety and numbers. It was made up of fraternal organizations, which made a very fine showing. Marshal John W. Sharkey led the march accompanied by James M. Fagan as chief aid and John J. Droney, John Calnan, John Ryne, Thomas Keegan and William F. Sadtler as aids. They were followed by the United States Cartridge Co. band. The first organization in line was the Mathew Temperance Institute, 100 strong, all wearing white carnations on their coat lapels. Paul Merritt acted as their marshal and was assisted by President Frank Reilly. Following them were the members of the Lowell series of Eagles, headed by Buckley's band. There were over 200 men of this organization in line, who were led by Vice President James J. Ward and Vice President James Boland. The banner of the order was carried by Jerry Reardon, U. S. N., while the American colors were borne by Joseph Convery, U. S. N. Mixed in the line were numerous men in soldiers and sailors uniforms.

The members of Christoforo Colombo society came next and their musicians were the members of the Italian Roma band. There were about 100 men in line and all wore the regulation cap of their society. They were led by President Dominic Bernadino. Vice President Zabbo carried the society banner, Joseph Hani, the American flag and B. Salome, the Italian colors. Then came the members of St. Antonio de Padua society with President Fred D'Arenzo acting as marshal. The banner of the society was carried by Frank Vello, the American flag by Flavona Dinaldi and the Italian colors by Carlo Scipizi. Heading the society was a group of nontes bearing the following children: John Bradford, Dorothy and Helen Rodden and Evelyn Downs.

The rear of the third division was taken up by four Portuguese societies with about 300 men in line. The first was St. Anthony's, which had for marshal, President Mathew Thomas. Then came St. Joseph's led by John S. Peter and then the A. P. M. headed by Antonio F. Barros. The last was St. John's, marshaled by Frank O. Quadre.

FOURTH DIVISION

Marshal William P. Cox headed the fourth division, which was made of clubs, and which was one of the most interesting in the long line because of its many handsome floats. The Victory Effe and Drum corps of Billerica furnished music for this section. The head of the line was taken up by the Hustlers and Buffaloes combined, who carried small American flags. William P. Cox acted as marshal of this division, while Michael O'Laughlin headed the Hustlers and Buffaloes. Following the men were two floats gotten up by the Buffaloes, the first representing "The Peace Conference" with Mary Carindy as "Columbia", Sadie Fitzgerald as "Erie", Della Kinnegan as "Justice" and Josephine Finnegan as "Liberty". Mary Frawley represented "Peace". The other float consisted of a large truck containing two graves with the familiar white crosses. Upon the shaft were seated Francis Campbell and Harry, Multigan of the O. M. I. Cadets, as well as little James Richards.

The float of the Believers consisted of a large truck bearing a globe surrounded by a white dove, representing "Peace", with J. L. Davidson of the Canadian army, Charles Carvel and Thomas McArdle of the navy, Walter P. Marshall and Harry D. Nudd of the American army standing at both ends of the car. The decorations around the float were superb.

The float of the Lisbon club was an artistic piece of work for its decorations were handsome. It consisted of a sort of merry-go-round with little Miss Margaret Pacheco comfortably seated on top of it. Under her hung

In playing Worcester on the opening night Lowell will meet the team regarded by many as one of the strongest in the league. With the fast working "tiger" Higgins in charge and the Taylor, Mallory, Donnelly and Foley the visitors will present a very formidable lineup.

The Lowell lineup, as announced includes Harkins, Griffith, Pence, Asquith and Davies, and the members of the team are due for a great workout when they hop into the rink tonight.

SPORTING EVENTS
SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The sporting events on the South common, which had been scheduled for 2 p. m. were run off immediately after the disbanding of the parade, and a large crowd, which assembled on the playground at 3 o'clock, was rather disappointed to find that they had arrived too late to witness the program.

The feature event was the 10-mile run from the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. the runners leaving the down river city at 12 o'clock and finishing with three laps around the common oval just as the parade arrived. The first prize, a silver loving cup, was won by Fred Couture. Second prize was captured by James Crowe, and third, fourth and fifth places were won by George Goddard, William Neil and C. Roddy, respectively.

Wood and Clarkson Meet in Final on Saturday

R. A. Wood strengthened the belief that he is going to be this year's golf champion at the Vesper Country club when on Saturday he came through the semi-final round by beating B. O. Tabor, 4 up and 2 to go. As Walter Clarkson defeated John B. Hyland, 1 up, Wood and Clarkson will meet next Saturday in the final round.

In the contests for the second 16 on Saturday, F. L. Knapp beat J. C. Kelly, 4 and 3 and Lincoln Clark beat L. F. Sherman, 2 and 1. In the matches for the defeated eight of the first 16, G. E. Drury defeated C. E. Hockmeyer, 3 and 1 and P. Abbott, Jr. took the measure of Thomas T. Clark, 7 and 5. C. M. Forrest and H. J. Corwin won their matches in the contests among the defeated eight of the second 16. These winners will meet in the final rounds next Saturday.

The sweepstakes played Saturday resulted in a win for J. Abbott, whose handicap of 14 pulled his net score down to 65. He was tied with P. W. Kelly, Jr., at 62 for low gross.

New Yorker Completely Outclassed Lawrence Boy in Whirlwind 12-round Bout

Before more than 15,000 boxing fans from all parts of New England, Johnny Dundee, the famous "Scotch wop" of New York, defeated Tommy Kloby Corcoran of Lawrence in a 12-round bout at the new Cuddy arena in Lawrence yesterday.

Since returning from overseas in April, Kloby had been going like a house afire and his remarkable success had given many, especially his Lawrence supporters, the impression that he was "invincible." In meeting Dundee, however, Kloby encountered his master. Dundee was outweighted over 10 pounds, but he outclassed the Y. D. boy from start to finish and gave the enthusiastic thousands one of the cleverest exhibitions of boxing seen in this section in years.

While Dundee early established his superiority, the fans remembering what had happened in that memorable Kloby-Shevin bout, when after being badly beaten for seven rounds, Kloby "came back" and won out in the ninth, hoped against hope that a similar situation would occur and this great confidence in Kloby held interest in a bout that might have otherwise been decidedly uninteresting owing to the one-sidedness of the battling.

The bout proved to be a contest between a wonderfully clever, aggressive and scientific boxer, and a fighter with a lion's heart and the skillful man won. Dundee's work was a treat to look upon. He was ever on the alert, went in and out with machine-like precision, worked the ropes to advantage and was careful at all times, and on the one occasion when Kloby essayed to swap punches with him, he stood toe to toe and let it go. The pair battled furiously in as rapid an exchange as one would care to see, but the Lawrence boy was forced to back away. At times Dundee's work made Kloby look like a novice. After going in with his "airplane attack" and peppering Kloby's face with stinging lefts and crossing to the ribs with his right, Dundee would dance back and Kloby's swings found nothing but the air to stop their momentum. Dundee had his opponent swinging like a gate and few of Kloby's terrible blows found their objective.

Kloby gamely stuck at his task and tried as he never tried before to get over that famous right that had brought him many previous victories. Dundee's assaults and howling speed failed to discourage the former soldier. On the contrary it only increased his determination. He kept plunging at his opponent throughout, and though his head was sent back and at times was bobbing like a cork on water, he continued to wage in with teeth gritted and looked and played for a chance to land a knockout punch. He watched and waited, but Dundee never gave him a chance. Dundee knew well Kloby's reputation as a hitter and he avoided and blocked that right at all times.

With the preliminaries over and the big arena packed to capacity with a crowd that filled every inch of available space and the buildings in the vicinity lined with people, the weather or perfect, the setting was ideal for the big battle. Ben Keaveney climbed through the ropes and announced that the men would box with five ounce gloves and vigorous applause followed. He then introduced Roy Green, the referee. The principals were called from their corners for instructions and when presented the arena rocked with applause.

In the first round both worked carefully and neither did much damage. Starting with the second, Dundee went to the front. He smashed Kloby with lefts to the head and rights to the ribs and stomach, and try as he would Kloby was not able to connect. The next two rounds found a repetition of the second, with Dundee landing a heavy blow on Kloby's right eye that drew blood. Kloby got over a few good ones as Dundee's left ear and forehead were battered.

Dundee a little.

In the fifth Dundee, using Kloby's eyes for a target, succeeded in closing the right eye and from this point on he continued to rain blows at the optics with damaging effect.

From the fifth on to the finish Dundee kept piling up a list that all realized could have but one outcome, a clear cut victory. Kloby fought desperately, and for a brief time in the 11th looked good, but the ally was short-lived, as Dundee, not to be denied, immediately cut loose and let a fusillade of blows that slowed up the Lawrence boy.

The final round was fast with Dundee going even better than in the opening rounds. He acted like a phantom and danced, bounced, hit and got away in whirlwind fashion. When the bell sounded Referee Green raised Dundee's hand in token of victory and the vast crowd gave the winner a tremendous hand.

The result was without doubt one of the most decisive victories for a night that went the entire distance seen in this vicinity in years.

The show was well staged, and while some of the late arrivals failed to get the seats their checks called for, the vast crowd made it a practical impossibility to do much better. Messrs. John E. Cuddy and George Cuddy, the "Schind" the enterprise, certainly deserve commendation for the successful manner in which they conducted the affair. They were ably assisted by Michael O'Gorman, secretary of the club.

K. OF C. WINS CITY
AMATEUR TITLE

Before a mere handful of spectators Saturday afternoon baseball's curtain was rung down when the Knights of Columbus defeated the Bellevues at Spaulding park in the game which decided the city amateur championship. The score was 7 to 4, although that hardly tells the margin of superiority between the competing clubs.

It was a K. of C. victory right from the start and although the Bellevues seemed to rally in the closing innings and did succeed in bringing up two score to a more respectable comparison, it was but a warning flash. The teams played a hot, two-out-of-three series and the Knights took both contests.

Devlin faced a slightly altered Bellevue team on Saturday. Mulino and Jenkins worked as the battery instead of Lawson and Edwards. While Daley played in right field and the infield was changed around considerably, the hits were fairly even, but the Bellevue defense was unimpaired and three errors in the opening inning, coupled with two K. of C. hits spoiled three hits brought four runs in the third. From then on the finish the winners did not seem that they had the winning edge.

For six innings Devlin held his opponents scoreless and allowed only six scattered hits. They rallied once in the seventh and then twice in the eighth and then in the ninth. It was not a featureless game, but such a raw wind made the players sorry to get it over and pack up the bags until another year.

McDonald made a sparkling catch of Finnegans' high foul near the bleacher fence in the eighth, while Henry Sullivan covered acres of territory around his position in center field.

ADAIR AND DUFFY ARE TRAINING HARD

Barney Adair and Jimmy Duffy, two very classy performers will appear in the main bout of 12 rounds at the Crescent rink on Thursday night, and a big crowd is expected to be on hand and the "mill" looks like one of the best ever scheduled for this city. Adair, who recently won from Paul Doyle and who boxed a great bout with Jimmy Hill, the Australian in Boston a few weeks ago, is regarded as one of the most satisfactory performers of his weight in the country. Duffy, too, has a splendid record having met all the top notchers, including the lightweight champion. Both men are training diligently for the match and their managers have informed the local matchmaker that their boys will be in the pink of condition when the bell rings Thursday night. In addition to this high class number there will be three other bouts. The assessments will be one, one and a half and two.

Buddy Dolan of Lawrence and Billy McAnn of Lowell and formerly of Lowell will meet in the second bout here tomorrow night. Kid Jinx and Young Panco will dash in one of the preliminaries.

FRANK MOLLINS
HAS GOOD RECORD

Frank Mollins, a very willing and satisfactory boxer, is again doing considerable work within the squared circle, and has set up a great record at Camp Devens where he has boxed a number of times during the past month. His recent victory over K. O. Leonard of Roxbury at the camp, was voted one of the best exhibitions ever seen there. Leonard entered the ring with a clean record and put up a hard battle to keep it intact. But Mollins would not be deterred and while he injured his hand in the third round, he continued plugging away and piling up a lead. After eight spirited rounds he was declared the winner. Mollins also won from Johnny Mario at the camp, via the knockout route in six rounds. Last week also he appeared at an American legion show at Pittsburg and knocked out Kid Lavigne in two rounds.

Since entering the ring game Mollins has lost but two bouts, his first and the one to Johnny Moran. Since the defeat by Moran he has been anxious for another chance, but to date he has been unable to get a return engagement. Mollins' eyes in the early stages of one of Mollins' eyes in the early stages and this of course proved a formidable handicap. He feels confident that he can win from Moran if given the opportunity. Mollins is constantly training and expects a busy winter.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, do not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and to away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony were intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it, the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives the rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed A. W. Dows & Co. to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

ENGINEERS HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Massachusetts branch of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers was held in this city Sunday, the affair being conducted in Labor hall, Central street, under the auspices of Local 352 of this city. There were about 60 delegates representing locals from various parts of the state present.

The convention opened at 10:30 o'clock and the forenoon was devoted to speechmaking, those who addressed the gathering being Mayor Thompson, Herman M. Comerford, president of the state branch and the president of the local Trades and Labor council. At 1 o'clock dinner was served and the afternoon was devoted to a business session.

A feature of the business meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, James O'Hair of Boston; first vice president, H. A. Russell of Springfield; second vice president, William E. McCann of Lowell; third vice president, Joseph Glenn of Boston. Lawrence was chosen for the convention next year.

Among those in attendance at the convention were Milton Snellings of Chicago, general president; Arthur M. Hindell, Chelsea, first vice president and William McKenzie of Portland, second general vice president, who spoke interestingly, telling of the doings of the grand local of the

U. S. STORES SALES $300,000 IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct.—Sales from ten stores established to dispose of the government's surplus stock of $100,000,000 worth of food and clothing, aggregated in one week nearly $300,000.

From Sept. 25, when the stores were opened, to Oct. 1, the Atlanta store sales amounted to $9000, Baltimore $11,7000, Boston $55,300, Charleston $2500, Columbus $47,000, Newport News $14,000, Philadelphia $23,000, New York $80,000.

"We have had some complaints of discrimination since we went into the food business," said Col. T. M. Purcell, chief of the surplus property division, purchase and supply, Washington. "Some say they don't have a chance to buy because the store isn't located in their neighborhood."

"But this complaint is not well founded, for we sell at the same price in other parts of the district that we sell for over the counter. An average of about one-tenth of the goods are sold at the seat of the store and the other nine-tenths set aside for parcel post orders."

"The government pays the postage," Col. Purcell estimates that merchants throughout the country have been forced to lower prices on articles similar to the government commodities by from 15 to 20 per cent.

Incidentally, the stores prove that retailers and wholesalers have been profiteering. The government fixed its price at the present cost from the manufacturers, plus a reasonable profit to all handlers till the food reaches the consumers.

The impression in some parts that the government stores had failed and that Uncle Sam was preparing to sell out on sealed bids is incorrect. On the contrary, the people are demonstrating their desire to save by buying these supplies direct, and no proposition for sealed bids is now outstanding.

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED

R. H. Duhamel, aged 25 years and residing in Nashua, N. H., was found in a dazed condition on the Nashua boulevard Saturday evening, while an automobile which he said was his was located in a field about 50 feet from the roadway. Duhamel was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital, where it was found that his injuries were of a minor nature. When questioned about what happened the Nashua man said he was operating the car on his way to his home and had a companion with him and that is all he could remember. It is believed that the man lost control of the steering apparatus and that the car turned turtle. No trace of the companion could be found so it is believed that he was uninjured and was able to go home. The automobile was wrecked.

DEXATERED ALCOHOL

Completely denatured alcohol, before being sold by either wholesaler or retailer, must now have under the familiar skull and bones symbol a new label printed in red bearing the word "poison" and a statement showing the injurious effects it has upon the skin and animal tissues. This change in labelling is due to a duling by the internal revenue bureau following reports of the abuses of completely denatured alcohol. Dealers handling the product are obliged under severe penalties to comply with the law.

BOY HIT BY AUTO

Walter Keeley, aged 8 years and residing at 2 Emery street, was struck by an automobile owned and operated by Carl Schultze of 820 Bridge street at the corner of Chelmsford and Powell streets Saturday evening and received minor injuries. The little fellow, so it is claimed, was playing in the street when the machine came along and never moved when he saw the approaching car. Brakes were applied but the automobile could not be brought to a stop before the collision occurred. The boy was treated at St. John's hospital.

FREE FOR THIS VISIT

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity, and if you are suffering, you should not fail to take advantage of it. Those wishing to see him should remember the Days, Dates and Office Hours of his visits and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

For nearly 15 years I have been studying the Chemistry of food and Chemistry of the human body. I have put these two sciences together and formulated the science of Applied Food Chemistry. By the application of this knowledge I cure all forms of stomach and intestinal diseases, and all other disorders that result from wrong eating and drinking. This method cannot fail because it conforms to the laws of Nature.

It is estimated that ninety-two per cent. of all diseases are caused by errors in eating. These errors are made by wrong selections, wrong combinations, and wrong proportions of food. I teach you how to correct these, how to select, how to combine and how to proportion your food according to your age and your occupation. This cures by removing causes. It gives Nature a chance. This is the true science of human nutrition, and it is governed by laws as infallible as the laws of gravitation. If you obey them you cannot be sick. If you do not obey them you cannot be well.

You have no idea what your body is capable of, until you have it perfectly nourished. You have no idea what your mind is capable of, until it lives in a perfectly nourished body.

You have no idea of the joy of living until every bone, tissue, muscle and organ of the body is brought up to 100% efficiency, which my system does.

If you are sick or have any kind of stomach or intestinal trouble it will require a short term of curative feeding—then I balance the diet so as to give to the body all the elements of nourishment it requires according to your age and your occupation.

If medicine is needed in any case I prescribe only such remedies that do not conflict with the proper diet. I get results and this ends all argument.

DR. NAUGHTON will positively be at the New American Hotel, Wednesday, Oct. 15th, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

DEMOCRATIC ISSUES

Senator Penrose, republican "boss" of the present congress, has announced that "it is not likely" there will be any revision of the tariff or lowering of the present tax schedules until after the next presidential election, or, in other words, until a new congress convenes in March, 1921.

This surprisingly frank statement from the recognized republican leader can only be accepted as a confession of the inability of the republican majority in both houses of congress to deal with the intricate economic problems growing out of the war. This confession is in striking contrast with the promises of the republicans just prior to the last congressional election—that if restored to power in the legislative halls in Washington they would prove their fitness as reconstructionists.

Senator Penrose offers the existing political and industrial chaos as an excuse for his announced "do nothing" policy. In his statement he refers only to the tariff and revenue questions. He might just as well have admitted the whole truth—known to all men in touch with the situation in congress—that the controlling majority has no solution for any of the economic difficulties now confronting the country.

President Wilson proposed a program of reconstruction for the republicans at the opening of the present special session, which session, the republicans clamored for so they "might get to work." The president, whose vision had foreseen the unrest that would be engendered if relief measures were not forthcoming, pointed out specifically what should be done.

Not so foolish as to suggest that the entire tariff structure be made over, as Senator Penrose virtually proposed in May, the president confined his import recommendations to essentials, such as the dyestuffs and chemical industries built up during the war. He urged a weapon of retaliation in our tariff laws, "in case other governments should enact legislation unequal in its bearing on our products as compared with the products of other countries." He asked that early consideration be given to tax revision, pointing out that many of the minor taxes made necessary by the pressing necessities of war time, particularly the excises upon various manufactures and the taxes upon retail sales, could now be repealed. The latter include the so-called luxury taxes upon wearing apparel, etc. Although experience has shown that in the main these taxes on retail sales have proved more annoying than profitable, the republicans have done nothing to eliminate them, notwithstanding that the democrats were only prevented from erasing these bothersome taxes from the statute books by a republican senate filibuster in the closing days of the last congress.

Even the most sanguine republicans have little hope that the present session will witness any solution of the railroad question. The president four months ago called on the controlling republican majority in congress to draft the necessary legislation that would permit the transfer of the railroads from government control. Nothing has been done that promises concrete action before the special session ends and the regular session begins in December. And so it is with the president's proposals regarding labor and the other questions that the republicans in the campaign of a year ago promised to quickly dispose of.

Truly, Senator Penrose's statement is a confession both of avoidance and incapacity. The Pennsylvania "statesman," with peculiar effrontery, now seeks to hold out the hope to the country that if a republican president and another republican congress are elected next year, all the existing vexing problems will be solved. We commend to Senator Penrose and his associates the immortal words of Abraham Lincoln:

"You may fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

OUR WINGED PIONEERS

Explorers and adventurers of the air have flown mighty distances. This summer the ocean was spanned. Between the Columbus and the Lewis and Clark of aviation is a long roll of heroic names.

The transatlantic derby, stupendous in range and in the extent of its brilliant entry list, does not excite the public mind as much as the past feats of daring have done. But think what it means! There have been assembled for this great endeavor the pick of modern aircraft and the pick of modern aviators. All makers, all nations, all theories of design are represented.

Its significance is practical rather than romantic, despite the lofty qualities of sportsmanship called forth. The United States government will analyze every detail of the achievements and the mishaps of the many contestants. The day of practical, utilitarian flying will be brought that much nearer as a result of the substantial material gained through this epic test of machines and men.

Death put its mark on the undertaking at the outset. But no one quailed or flinched. An older generation of Americans went westward, following the explorations of a fearless few, to take possession of the wilderness. The 'cross continent fliers are crowding into hours and days the perils which these other pioneers endured over months and years.

There still is a question mark after future of aviation. The automobile, at the end of its first decade of use, was an interesting experiment in contrast to its present status. What America did with the motor car America is doing with the airplane. In the air derby, the spirit of the old frontier still lives, with undiminished vigor.—N. E. A.

ACCIDENT FATALITIES

Formerly the greater number of fatalities from Lowell resulted from drowning in the local rivers and canals, but since the establishment of the ice parks in the winter and wading pools and bath houses in the summer, there has been a great reduction in the number of drownings. When the late Harry W. J. Howe was alive he dug up a list of the names of persons who had been drowned in the waterways of Lowell, numbering over 500. For the last few years we are glad to say that there have been comparatively few drownings either of bathers in the rivers and canals or of skaters through thin ice.

Recently most of the fatalities in our city are the result of automobile accidents on the public streets and the highways leading outward to the suburbs. There is a great deal of reckless driving within the city limits and even on thickly settled streets where speeding is strictly prohibited. Once some drivers get upon the highway they forget all about the speed laws with the result that accidents occur even to those who exercise extreme care.

By far the greatest number of accidents, however, results from children running across the streets in front of automobiles or at the tail end of street cars and motor trucks. For those accidents the parents in many cases are directly responsible because they allow their children to run at large on the streets, catching onto passing vehicles and making a playground even of the busiest streets.

HOLDING THE BONDS

Too many Liberty Bonds are being lost, misplaced or stolen. Most of us are careless in their handling. Liberty Bonds are kept in store and office safes with doors open and in unlocked drawers; men carry them in their pockets, women in their handbags and even large financial institutions send them through the streets in open packages by irresponsible messenger boys. Hardly a week goes by that this newspaper does not recount the brief, Coal Oil Johnnie-like career of some lad who has sold Liberty Bonds entrusted to his care.

We do not apply the same reason of value in the keeping of our Liberty Bonds that we did in their purchase. A Liberty Bond has a value of its market price the same as so much cash. More in fact, for it bears interest. All issues will doubtless go to a premium and they are easily converted into cash by their bearer. That is why they should not be sold right away.

But few of us seem to apply the same imagination to the care of a Liberty Bond that all of us do to the same amount in cash. Why not apply the same care to the keeping of a 50-dollar government bond that we do to a dollar bill or the loose change in our pockets?—N. E. A.

TANK INVENTORS

In England there is a big controversy over who invented the tank that cut such a figure in the world war and was really the best machine produced with the exception of the airplane. It was for a time the terror of the Germans, but they managed to get hold of a tank and then made more formidable tanks of their own.

It appears that the tank was a composite product comprising the best features of as many as a dozen inventions submitted to the war department. About the same time tanks and tractors were produced in this country, so that England can scarcely claim the entire credit of having originated them. The tank, however, was the most potent and effective engine of destruction that had its origin in the necessity of meeting the Germans with something that they could not match and that with comparative impunity could plow through the enemy hosts, spreading death on all sides. The inventors of the tank in its practical and final form, whether they are two men, ten or twenty, should be rewarded.

THE SUGAR FAMINE

Families having young children are sorely perplexed by the lack of sugar. It is asked by many how some dealers get sugar while others don't. The answer is, that in most cases the successful ones pay a premium on what they get, feeling that this service will draw trade in other lines.

It is a notable fact that very few customers can get sugar at any store by asking for that alone, and even when they purchase other supplies, they are often told that there is no sugar. The condition is becoming serious for the families which have babies to feed. Infants fed on the bottle will not take food that is not sweetened as usual. Without the usual supply of sugar, therefore, they whine and get sick. The sugar famine, therefore, will increase the death rate. Some public body should arrange to furnish a reasonable supply of sugar for the families in which there are babies. Adults can go without sugar but the babies can't without serious injury to their health.

The South End welcome home parade was one of the finest in the history of the city. In every detail it was highly creditable to the committee in charge, the men in line and the organizations that aided. The floats were particularly praiseworthy and the feature of having the families who lost boys in the war form a separate contingent in autos, was thoughtful and appropriate. Chief Marshal James E. Donnelly and Chairman Daniel Cosgrove were liberally congratulated on the success of their efforts as the leading spirits in organizing the celebration. The boys in khaki and those in sailors' uniform were cordially greeted by the thousands of people who lined the route from start to finish.

We notice that the street department is putting in granolithic sidewalks. These are not only expensive, but dangerous. The old fashioned concrete sidewalk, if well laid, is much better and more durable. Except where the foundation is dry and solid, the granolithic sidewalk soon splits up and becomes a total loss. If it remains, its slippery surface is likely to be the cause of many claims for damages being lodged against the city. Thus it is doubly expensive.

Whether the letter written by Senator Moses of New Hampshire does or does not state the nature of President Wilson's illness correctly, it shows bad faith on the part of the writer. It gives out an alarming rumor as truth and thus stirs not only the nation but some other countries as well.

Milkmen and are lamp tenders who break glass on the streets should not leave it to be picked up in punctures by the tires of passing automobiles, yet this is just what they do in most cases. The police would do well to discipline a few of these reckless snappers.

BIDS ON AUDITORIUM

No Restriction on Non-Union Labor and Materials—Opening of Bids Tomorrow

On account of a number of protests from non-union concerns and contractors who have open shops, employing union and non-union labor, the memorial auditorium commissioners met Saturday evening and eliminated from the specifications for the erection of the auditorium the clause confining labor and materials used on the project to union shops. As a result, all are now enabled to send proposals to the commission.

The commission will receive sealed proposals for the erection and completion of the auditorium tomorrow forenoon from 11 to 11:30 in the Aldermanic chamber at city hall. All bids will be opened at 11:30 and the proposals publicly read. Present at the opening will be Mr. Blackall, of the firm of Blackall, Clapp & Whitmore, architects of the proposed building; Harry Prescott Graves, their local associate, and the entire auditing commission. After the proposals have been read the commission will hold a meeting.

RUSSIAN PIANIST AT OPERA HOUSE

Rachmaninoff, renowned Russian pianist, composer and director, came to the Lowell Opera House Sunday evening and splendidly ushered in the fall season of musical art. With Paderewski, he stands in the forefront of the musical world today and a fair-sized audience heard him with great delight.

One might say of Rachmaninoff that he simply plays. Relying not at all upon superficial flourishes or artistic gestures, he sits before his beloved instrument and allows his interpretative genius to roll off his nimble finger tips with unostentatious grace. His hands are at all times under perfect control and although he has a physique of power, chords of lace-like beauty spring from his wonderful fingers. Indeed he deserves his position of prominence among the masters of the piano. The audience was particularly interested in the program inasmuch as it embraced a group of numbers of his own composition, one of which, the Prelude in C Sharp Minor, has made his name familiar to all musicians. The closing number, the waltz tune from Faust, perhaps brought him more acclaim than any of the others. He seemed to give his whole soul to this arrangement and at its conclusion was forced to bow his acknowledgment time after time.

The concert was arranged by R. E. Saul of Lawrence and his successful efforts in bringing the famous pianist to this city should indeed be appreciated in the fullest measure.

KNIGHTS OBSERVE COLUMBUS DAY

Columbus day was appropriately observed yesterday by Lowell council, No. 73, Knights of Columbus, when a large number of the members marched in a body from the council rooms in an associate building to St. Peter's church to attend mass at 9:30 o'clock. The line was headed by the Lowell Cadet band and members of the Fourth Degree assembly in full regalia.

Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, chaplain of the council, celebrated the mass and delivered a brief sermon on the significance of the day. He said that from the landing of Columbus and the dedication of this continent to God, the first principle of citizenship has been love of God and country. As all authority comes from God, the truly religious man must be ready to uphold the lawful authority vested in organized government, and hence religion includes patriotism, or love of country. He referred to the inspiring patriotism with which the knights responded to their country's call in the late war and said that with such men ever ready to fight and even to make the supreme sacrifice for the flag, the nation need have no fear that any such menace as the social monster of Bolshevism will ever get a lasting foothold on the soil of this republic. "To unceasing warfare against every such menace to our government you men of the Knights of Columbus are specially dedicated from the very moment you enter the portals of your noble order."

Following the mass the members marched to the rooms and were dismissed. Grand Knight George Briggan and Marshal Thomas B. Delaney were in the lead.

Spoke on Americanization Mayor Perry D. Thompson was the principal speaker at two well-attended meetings at the Armenian church on Lawrence street and the Greek church on Jefferson street Sunday eve-

MRS. HENRI CHAPDELAINE

I was in such a weakened condition that I had no courage for anything, and the best part of my time was passed in resting, as I was always tired. This state of affairs was brought on by the fact that I had to start working at a very early age. My grandmother, who had used RED PILLS and had great confidence in them, made me take them for a while and they did me an immense amount of good. In fact, after taking them regularly I am now in the best of health, have a good complexion and am happy to be feeling so good.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

Election of officers for the ensuing year was held at the annual business meeting of the Immanuel Baptist church Sunday evening and resulted as follows: President, Rev. A. G. Warner; vice president, Roscoe Thomas and C. O. Leadbetter; secretary, Rev. H. A. Cornell; treasurer, W. E. Symonds; chairman of missionary committee, Rev. W. E. Woodbury; social committee, Rev. Earle T. Favre; membership committee, Richard Gumb; business committee, W. T. Shepard.

Following an appetizing supper, served by the women of the church, Rev. W. Quay Roselle of Malden made an address on the topic: "The New Day for the Baptists," in which he said that many traditions are being "scrapped" in these modern days and urged his hearers to keep in line with modern progress.

Beauty Answers

By MADAME MAREE

DIMPLES C.—Your complexion is not merely in the very outer skin. It is deeper than that. It is that part of the skin immediately underneath the outer layer. Complexion creams, which merely affect the outer layer are as a rule very inefficient. A method gaining wide use because of its tremendous success lies in the use of zintone, a powder which is simply mixed at home with a little glycerine and dissolved in water. This makes an exquisite cream. The zintone can be secured at any drug store in one-ounce packages for 50 cents. This is also a very economical method. By liberal use of this article, a tremendous difference in the complexion is noted in a few days by the disappearance of mudiness, sallowness, red spots, freckles and other blemishes.

MRS. G. F. O. C.—Yes you can easily remove blackheads in a few moments, even while you are engaged in your toilet. And in this you have been years trying to get rid of these embarrassing blackheads! On a hot wet cloth sprinkle some powdered zintone, which you can get at the drug store for 50 cents, and rub this over the affected skin. You will find the blackheads will be entirely gone in a few moments. Continue this method every few days.

MRS. C. A.—By all means you should not use mechanical instruments for bust development. Use a safe formula, by mixing two ounces of rectone, half a cup of sugar and half pint of water. Two tablespoonfuls of this after each meal and one at bedtime will in most instances do wonderful work. Of course, no one can promise sure results in any one case, but this formula should do the work.—Adv.

STRIKERS DENOUNCED

Rev. Michael J. Dwyer Says
Boston Police "Got What
They Deserved"

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Declaring that if he were occupying his former position he would class the striking policemen of Boston as deserters, Rev. Michael J. Dwyer, assistant pastor at St. John's church, Rensselaer, and formerly assistant district attorney at Boston, scathingly condemns the Hub policemen for the manner in which they sought to force the granting of the demands and the recognition of their union.

He denounced in no uncertain terms the men who left the city of Boston to the "tender mercies of hoodlums, burglars, murderers and other exponents of vice."

Acquainted With Conditions

He said that during his term as assistant district attorney in Boston he had become acquainted with conditions in that city, and he thoroughly believed that the policemen of Boston should be paid more money, as well as receiving other necessary improvements in their working conditions.

"But they did not go at it in the right manner," declared Fr. Dwyer. "They merely issued an ultimatum to the commissioner declaring their intention of striking if he discharged 19 of their members who had already joined a labor union."

"I have learned that the commissioner told them that, no matter what the circumstances were, they had taken an oath to God that they would protect the lives and property of citizens of Boston and they broke that oath."

"Because of the present strike in Boston the policeman has found that public sentiment is arrayed against him. The citizens have no sympathy for the policemen who left their fixed posts of duty and left them at the mercy of lawless mobs who were waiting for the chance to loot and pillage one of the greatest cities in the United States."

He did not sympathize with the policemen when they decided that, with public opinion against them and in view of the action of Governor Coolidge and Commissioner Curtis in getting a new force to take their places, they were ready to come back. He pointed out that the policemen took an oath almost similar to that of a soldier, that they deserved their posts, and now that their jobs were being filled they were ready to come back. "They got just what they deserved," said Fr. Dwyer.

"Personally, do not believe policemen should affiliate with the national labor body because they may at some time or other be forced to uphold the law against the depredations of lawless strikers. If they were members of a union connected with the national body and on an equal footing with the average union man, they would be caught between two fires. In a controversy between the laboring man and his employer, the policeman in the event of a strike might be asked to go out in sympathy with them, thereby forgetting his oath to the city, that he employes him. This cannot be. The policemen should never be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

SHIPWRECKED CREW
SAVED BY LANDSMAN

N.E.A. Special to The Sun

WASHINGTON, October.—The loss of the freighter, Corydon, which sank off the west coast of Florida in a heavy gale, would have been one more mystery of the sea had it not been for a landlubber.

This story, as told in the shipping board office, contains all the elements of sea romance.

The captain who could not be persuaded to leave his doomed command. The sailor who, crazed from drinking salt water, stabbed the mate in the swamped lifeboat.

Two days and a night of struggle with gigantic waves, with madness and death pressing close.

Frank Addison, representing the federal shipping board as supercargo, or business agent, on the Corydon was directly responsible for saving the lives of the eight men who reached here.

Cut Boats Away

"I asked the captain several times to send out an S.O.S.," said Addison, "but he wouldn't. So the third mate and I got our razors and tried to cut away one of the boats. The Corydon was settling rapidly and her pumps were out of commission."

"The first boat we tried to launch was jammed against the davits by a big wave. The captain did nothing," said nothing, but stood by as though in a daze. He had a wife and child ashore.

"A wave threw me against the port lifeboat. I was barged and bruised, but I began cutting at the boat's lashings when another wave threw me into the boat, which was floating. The Corydon was low on the port side. I cut the boat loose, drifted around the vessel and yelled at the men to jump. Ten of them did and nine of them got into the boat. We had not drifted 200 yards when the Corydon sank. I saw the captain standing by the bridge. He refused to jump."

"I put out the sea anchor and it was torn to shreds. We bound all of the oars except one, into a bundle and threw them overboard as an anchor, but they were snapped into pieces by the first wave. Presently we were capsized. We righted the boat by hanging to the keel."

Air Tanks Save Boat

"Three times this happened. The boat was full of water, but held up because of air tanks."

"One of the sailors drank sea water and went crazy. He attacked the mate with a knife and cut him severely before he was overcome. We bound the poor fellow, but he struggled to hold his head under water. We used all our strength in restraining him. Finally he died, and to lighten the boat we let the body wash away."

"All night there were no stars and the storm continued to rage. We had raised a bit of sail, which steadied the boat. About midnight we sighted a light. By dawn we ran past a light-house. The keeper signaled that we were headed for shore."

"In two hours we could see the beach. Presently a man, a woman and a child appeared. We learned that the youngster saw us first and said 'Look at the men coming without any boat!' for, of course we were mostly under water."

"We washed up on the beach and crawled out with hardly any clothes on. The woman said that it was no time for false modesty and she and her husband helped us to their bungalow, where we were given water, a careful dose of food and then permitted to fall on the floor, wrapped in blankets and sleep like dead men."

Addison is at his home in Fall River, recuperating strength after his trying experience.

HIS HAND CRUSHED

William Collins, a deaf mute, residing in Cabot street, lost the little finger of his right hand and had his hand badly crushed in an electric car accident, which occurred Saturday evening on the Nashua road beyond Mountain Rock. According to the story told by the motorman in charge of the electric car, Collins was laying in the roadway near the car tracks when the car, which was inward bound, came along. Brakes were applied, but the man's hand was run over. Collins was placed aboard the car and taken to the city, whence he was taken to St. John's hospital in the ambulance.

THIS IS "HORSES"
ABOUT A COW

A balky cow, hitched to the tail-board of a Pelham man's wagon, which was being taken from a stable on Warren street to Pelham, stirred up considerable excitement in front of the Strand theatre at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Why the cow didn't want to follow along peacefully behind the wagon to its new home is unknown, but that's what happened, and the Pelham man decided to drag it along, whether or no.

Now a balky cow in itself is not of so great interest, but when its owner ordered full speed ahead with the protesting animal the pedestrians began to get peeved. A cow was a cow, said they, but was it necessary to use such a method to take it to its destination. In fact, they got thoroughly aroused, and did some of these pedestrians, and finding mere words of no avail a call was sent in to police headquarters.

Two officers were soon on the scene; so, too, was Agent Richardson of the Humane society. He looked things over and told the Pelham man that the dragging idea was all wrong and induced him to unhitch Mrs. Cow from the wagon and lead her on foot while the boy who accompanied him drove the horse. Whereupon Mrs. Cow went peacefully on her way, the crowd dispersed, and quiet settled down once more on Lowell's busiest street.

WHEN YOU SHOP FOR A HAT BE SURE THAT IT BECOMES YOUR HEIGHT

Three Battleships on List of

The Danton, 18,000 tons, was sunk by a German submarine in the Mediterranean on March 19, 1917, with the loss of 206 men. The Gaulois, 11,000 tons, which aided in the Dardanelles bombardment during which she was damaged but afterwards repaired, was likewise torpedoed in the Mediterranean by a German U-boat on Dec. 27, 1916. The Suffren, of 12,500 tons, another of the French fleet at the Dardanelles, was lost with all on board during the engagement, in Dec. 1910, the German admiralty announcing that she had been torpedoed and sunk.

With an anonymous note written in a female hand and pinned to her clothing, asking that the child be well taken care of as the mother was unable to do so, and also that the little one be baptized in the Catholic faith, a little girl, aged about 4 or 5 weeks was found on the steps of St. Joseph's rectory late Sunday night. CONDUCTORS' CASE REOPENS

One Defendant Admits Withholding Fares to Balance Cash Register

Testifies Fare Box and Rooke Gun Caused Discrepancies

That the only occasions when he had held out fares on cars of the local street railway were in making up discrepancies caused by the Rooke register or fare box being inaccurate and "over charging" him was the substance of the testimony offered by John B. Wallace, one of the three conductors who have been on trial for several days for larceny from the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, when he took the stand in his own defense in police court today.

The trial of the three conductors, J. F. Kelley, Camille Chioine and Wallace, occupied the greater part of last week. All three men are charged with holding out fares on various trips during September and five "operators" employed by the Railway and Auditing and Inspection Co., of Philadelphia, offered testimony in regard to the alleged fare stealing. The defense, represented by Atty. Tierney, opened its case today.

The first witness called by the defense was John B. Wallace, one of the three defendants charged with stealing fares from the company.

In response to questions of Atty. E. F. Tierney, he said that he lived at 255 Appleton street and had worked on the local lines of the railway since July, 1915.

Brilliant Parade Marks the Climax of Four-Day Celebration

Holiday Thousands Greet the Marchers as They Pass Along Familiar Streets

Lowell's South End threw open its doors, its streets and its hearts yesterday to its own service men and royally welcomed them back to persons and familiar scenes left behind when the call of country drowned out all others through the long months of war.

On street after street whole households gathered at the curb and formed unbroken lines through which tramped their boys in khaki and navy blue, with advance and rear guards of friendly organizations in escort. The parade marked the climax of a celebration which had extended over three previous days and had embraced a territory extending from Towers corner to the far limits of Gorbani street and from Belvidere to the upper Highlands.

And what a day for parading! Bathed

SAUNDERS MARKET, INC. CHANGES HANDS

Saunders Market, Inc., generally admitted to be Lowell's largest retail provision store, has been sold to a group of business men headed by Walter S. Official announcement of the transfer of the entire property, including stock, fixtures, delivery wagons and good will, was made today following the passing of the final papers on Saturday night, last.

The new owners will operate the store under the firm name of the Saunders Market Co., and will make every effort to uphold the traditions of fair dealing which date back to the time when the late John P. Saunders began the regime of Saunders market. For the present the store will be closed to allow for thorough renovation, replenishing of stock, etc., and it is the belief of the new owners that the business will re-open on or about Oct. 21.

220,000 Workers Idle as Result of Strikes in N. Y., According to Unions

Longshoremen Refuse to Return — Teamsters' Strike Brings Embargo

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—With at least 220,000 workers either on strike or idle as the result of strikes, according to union estimates, New York today faced the prospect of a serious food shortage rendered imminent by the refusal last night of the longshoremen to return to work and the continuance of the teamsters' strike.

President T. V. O'Connor of the International Longshoremen's Assn. said that the various locals would now take a referendum vote on the question of returning to work. O'Connor said that he still had hopes that "the serious thinking men in the organization will see that a mistake has been made in trying to repudiate their word given to the government and to the people and that they will yet abide by the decision of the national adjustment commission."

The walkout of the 11,000 teamsters, chauffeurs and helpers has caused the American Railway Express Co. to place an embargo on all express packages entering and leaving the city. Virtually all of the fish, vegetables and other perishable food are shipped here by express. The strike of the longshoremen, harbor and ferryworkers has caused food to rot on the docks and in ships. No coal has reached here for several days. Some milk and vegetables have reached the city by circuitous routes.

The industrial unrest in the city is shown in a statement by Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union.

FOR NAVAL RECRUITS
A naval recruiting mission from the U.S.S. destroyer Itasca arrived in Lowell today and will be in the city for the remainder of the week. Men are needed for all departments of the ship. This is about the last opportunity local men will have to sign up for any individual ship, as after this month so-called "individual recruiting" will be discontinued and recruits assigned to whichever ship is most in need of men.

Two men were forwarded from the local naval recruiting station today by Chief Carr. They were James Bradley, Congress street, Draught, and John Arden, Lawrence. Both enlisted as apprentice seamen.

Public Representative Submits Plan to End All Industrial Disputes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—A plan for settlement of all industrial disputes by a joint committee representing employers, union workers and employees remaining at work was proposed to the National Industrial conference today by Thomas L. Chabourne, public representative, as a substitute for labor's resolution calling for arbitration of the steel strike.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson's industrial conference adjourned in confusion this afternoon after Thomas L. Chabourne, a public representative had proposed a plan to settle all industrial disputes as a substitute for the resolution of organized labor demanding arbitration of the nationwide steel strike.

Municipal Council Centres Its Interest on Pole Location Hearing

For the first time in several months the subject of finances was omitted entirely from this morning's regular meeting of the municipal council. Appropriations and loans were never once mentioned during the session. Chief among which was a hearing on the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for a pole location in Pleasant street. Half a dozen remonstrants were on hand to air their views on the matter and it finally developed that if the remonstrants persist in their course they might endanger their own right to telephone service.

Meeting in Detail

The meeting was called at 10.10. Commissioner Murphy was absent. Hearings were held on the following petitions and they were later referred to Commissioner Morse: Carlton & Hovey, garage and gasoline, 21 Post Office avenue west; Arthur A. Parker, garage, 42 Bennett st.; James F. Hurley, gasoline, 739 Moody street; Tremont & Suffolk mills, gasoline.

Mrs. J. E. Turner appeared in opposition to the petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for permission to erect a pole in Columbus avenue between Wilder and Walker streets to give service to George M. Heath. The petition was referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand.

Similar action was taken on the petition of the Eastern Massachusetts Street railway company and the Lowell Electric Light corporation for permission to erect two poles in Pawtucket street.

Arrest of Maker of Bombs Which Have Startled the Country Near

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Military authorities at Gary, Ind., the home of the big steel mills announced today that they hoped to have the maker of the Gimbol and other bombs which have startled the country in the past year, under arrest within a few hours.

Secret service men said they knew the name, habits and manufacturing methods of the individual who they claimed, has made most of these bombs. They announced also that they had uncovered a plot to assassinate the mayor of Gary, discovered great stores of dynamite near Gary and traced the printing of Red circulars to Indianapolis. They said they had arrested the men who blew up an entrance of the Chicago postoffice a year ago.

Premature announcement in a Chicago paper this morning of some features of the bomb story, military authorities at Gary said, had partly unwarped their plan for clearing out what they had reason to believe was one of the central committees of dynamiters in this country. This story said that Alexander Ivanoff had been arrested as the principal bomb maker. Colonel Mapes, commander of the federal troops at Gary, announced this forenoon that Ivanoff had not been arrested, but that authorities were looking for him.

Near the scene of the explosion of one of the bombs some months ago these authorities said was found a scrap of a newspaper printed in Chicago. The paper's entire subscription lists were obtained and the subscribers names studied. Selections were made among these names as likely to lead to developments.

Radical Factory at Gary Raided

The peculiar style of manufacture with the ingenious contrivance of the explosive, has linked them unmistakably with a basement radical factory raided at Gary by the federal troops. It is said.

Since the 1600 soldiers of the Fourth and Sixth Divisions took control of Gary investigations have been shrouded in secrecy. There have been many arrests made and a strong stockade was built to keep the prisoners in.

How many besides the alleged bomb maker are held in connection with the nation-wide plots has not been revealed by the federal authorities, city or military.

The gun cotton and other high explosives in the bombs were obtained from the Aetna Powder works, four miles east of Gary, it is said.

It is also stated that the efforts of a radical to obtain a further supply of the explosive, led to the raiding of the cellar bomb factory after fed-

ASK GERMANY TO JOIN IN BLOCKADE OF SOVIET

BERLIN, Monday, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press) Suggestions from the entente that Germany join in the blockade of soviet Russia have not as yet been officially considered by the German cabinet, but have inspired a statement indicating the government's answer will neither be an unconditional refusal nor an indication of assent. It is said that Germany will suggest the installation of an international commission to deliberate on the proposition which unquestionably found Germany unprepared and places her in a quandary.

Aviator Burned to Death in Fall

BAITMORE, Md., Oct. 14.—Lyman W. Doty, pilot of one of the New York-Washington mail airplanes, was burned to death today at the Rolling Road golf club, Catonsville, a suburb, when his plane crashed nose first into the ground and the gasoline tank exploded. The plane left Washington for New York only a short time before it fell. It is believed that Doty was attempting to land here because of the clouds and heavy weather. As he glided toward the ground one of the wings of the machine caught against a tree. It is believed he was alone in the machine.

Living Costs Soon to Fall

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Living costs will fall soon, Attorney General Palmer predicted today in an interview. "Prices have dropped in all parts of the country," he said. "I am surprised that the same condition does not prevail here. But it will come. Throughout the United States the costs of foods have fallen almost 25 per cent. Beef on the hoof has gone down so low in some localities that the producers are protesting."

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

FROM

THE TREMONT TRUST COMPANY

35 COURT ST., BOSTON

Dear Friends:

Is there not something unfair in the policy of those bankers who take the earnings of the people, deposited in their Savings Department, and who decline to pay interest upon them oftener than once in three or six months, while they at the same time charge interest to borrowers from the moment a loan is made until it is repaid? These bankers DEMAND INTEREST on every penny for every day they loan, but PAY INTEREST to depositors only as they choose.

Let us take a case for illustration. A hard working man saved up a few dollars and deposited his savings in the bank against a rainy day.

Sickness came and upon going to the bank to draw out his savings, he learns that no interest will be paid him for a period of several months. The reason given is that the interest date set by the bank had not arrived. And this notwithstanding that the bank had not only the use of the deposit all the time but had actually earned money on it.

But the Tremont Trust Company, strong financially, managed by men you know, recognizes the unfairness of a system which thus penalizes depositors. They practice the Golden Rule.

The Tremont Trust is paying interest, computed and compounded MONTHLY. A Savings Depositor does not have to wait three or six months for the payment of his or her interest. It is credited every month to the account of the depositor, and interest is paid ON interest. Because of this liberal treatment, the Tremont Trust Company has paid interest at the rate of

Savings Depositors in the Tremont Trust Company May Withdraw deposits at any time practically without loss of any interest. The Tremont Trust Company feels that the depositor's money belongs to him or her, and that he or she has a right to take it out at any time for any purpose without losing interest.

You may open an account with the Tremont Trust Company by mail. You do not have to come in person, although the Officers will be glad to welcome you. You get exactly the same treatment as those who come personally to our new quarters, most centrally located at 35 Court Street, Boston, opposite City Hall Annex.

Checking accounts, too, are solicited. We also maintain a well equipped Foreign Exchange Department and modern Safe Deposit Vaults.

Open Saturday evenings until ten o'clock.

ENDURANCE TEST RIDE

14 Riders and Horses on Trip From Fort Ethan Allen to Camp Devens

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 14.—Fourteen riders and horses started this morning at 7 o'clock on the 300 mile endurance test ride from Fort Ethan Allen to Camp Devens which will take five days. The ride is an attempt at a step toward solving the question of what is the best breed of horses for cavalry mounts and in the list of entries are Arabs, Morgans and thoroughbreds.

Among the riders who started today is Albert W. Harris, president of the Harris Trust Co. of Chicago. The clerk of the course is David Gray, novelist, and the judges are Harry Worcester Smith, one of the best known horsemen here and in Europe; Major Henry Leonard, U.S.A. and Maj. Benton, U.S.A.

The riders and their mounts had a 60 mile journey ahead of them for the first day. The course lay over hilly roads to Northfield, where the first night's stop will be made.

Kingfisher, an Arab gray boy gelding of eight years, standing 14.3 hands high, which carried Col. Frank Tompkins farthest south into Mexico in the hunt for Villa was among the mounts which took up the long hike. Col. Tompkins, now president of Norwich university, was the rider.

Stomach Pains WERE RELIEVED BY THIS REMEDY

Connecticut Woman Strongly Recommends Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"If people who are suffering from stomach trouble would take a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I am sure that there would be a great deal less suffering," says Mrs. Lottie Daley, who lives at No. 315 Brunell street, Bridgeport, Conn. "I say this because my own experience with the remedy has proved its effectiveness."

"Repeated attacks of indigestion had weakened me so that I couldn't walk across a room. I suffered from smothering sensations when I attempted to do any work and couldn't sleep well. My body ached all over and each day found me a little weaker."

"My brother recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to me and I procured a box. In two weeks I saw an improvement in my condition and it wasn't long before my stomach had become so much stronger that I could eat a good meal without after-digestion of any kind. As I gained strength the smothering sensations disappeared and I sleep soundly now. I shall never be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write for the free booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat"—Adv.

South End Welcome Home

In autumnal glory and warm sunshine, fair skies formed a rich, blue canopy above. It was as if the Great Provider had looked down upon the spirit which permeated and prompted it and pronounced it good and sent a day of rare beauty to adorn it. Halfway thousands poured through the city streets and lined the long route of march. Although the parade was South End in inception and largely so in participation, the engendered interest was city-wide and those living outside the imaginary boundary lines joined in the welcoming chorus with a fervor every whit the equal of that shown by those to whom the district is "home, sweet home."

A Deeper Meaning

The parade was not long as parades go nowadays, consuming scarcely 20 minutes to pass a given point, but it was a parade with a purpose. Those who marched with the service men—semi-military, fraternal and civic organizations—were in line to do them honor, while those who watched extended the greetings of a thankful and worshipful community. The fanfare of drums, the martial music, tossing flags, floats and even lines of marching men all were a part of the message the boys flashed back in response to the tumultuous welcome—a welcome of gladness and appreciation.

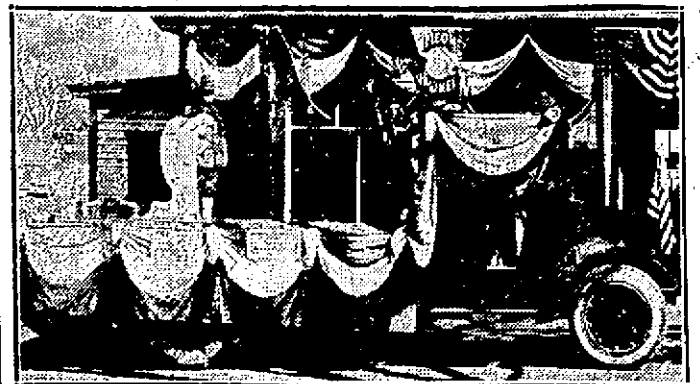

The parade was just 23 minutes late in starting, but who cared? It was a day to be out of doors. From the starting point in Davis square the route of march led up Gorham street as far as the Edison cemetery, counter-march to Moore street, to South Whipple, to Lawrence, to Church, to Central, to Davis square again, to Gorham, to Middlesex, to Thorndike, to Appleton, to South and to the South common where the marshal's staff and guests reviewed it.

Police and Firemen

Once under way the long column moved right along, with only an occasional halt to slow it up. In the lead were 60 Lowell policemen headed by Supt. Redmond Welch. They looked well and marched finely and everywhere were greeted with applause. With the superintendent were Lieut. Bartholomew Ryan, Martin Maher and John Freeman and Sergt. Patrick Frawley.

Forty members of the fire department came next, each man wearing a carnation on the breast of his uniform. They were in command of District Chief Thomas F. Saunders and like their brothers-in-law, they were enthusiastically greeted.

Chief Marshal and Staff

The Lowell Military band, the first musical unit in line, was guided by John H. Condon, the tireless worker for the success of the affair and chairman of the committee on sports. The band escorted Chief Marshal Jas. F. Donnelly, his staff, invited guests and members of the general celebration committee. Among the honored guests who marched were Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Rep. Thomas J. Corbett, Commissioner Geo. B. Marchand, Hon. James E. Casey, Hon. John T. Sparks, City Clerk Stephen Flynn, Joseph H. Gormley, Dr. James H. O'Connor, Rep.

Brennan, J. H. Dwyer, Joseph Fielding, Henry L. Touche, Francis A. Warnock, John P. Mahan, Leon Mullin and Daniel P. Cosgrove.

As chief of staff, the duty of actual command fell upon Capt. James Reynolds, Q.M.C. Directly behind him walked two score service men of the district and the many aids. Prominent among the commissioned service men in line were Lieut. Joseph M. Reilly, Lieut. Richard D. Donoghue, Lieut. Joseph Ward, Lieut. Daniel T. Foley, Lieut. J. Henry Gilbride, Major James J. Powers, Capt. Walter R. Joyce, Capt. W. C. MacBrayne, Lieut. William M. Collins, Lieut. Jackson Palmer, Lieut. Frank Bacheller, Lieut. Hugh L. Garrity, Lieut. Patrick Harrington, Lieut. Arthur McLean, Lieut. Frank Laycock, Lieut. James O'Donoghue, Lieut. B. J. Maloney and Lieut. Walter Howard.

Clergymen in Line

Members of the clergy of the several churches included within the district roled in automobiles. They had been unstinting in their deeds of co-operation prior to the celebration and richly earned their positions of honor near the head of the column. Among them were: Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D.,

They Have Found the Way to Beautiful Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth. It has been tested for years by able authorities in clinical and laboratory tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to every home in this city, and we urge every home to get it. Let it prove itself.

Film is What Discolors

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So it accumulates and may do a ceaseless damage.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. And now it is known why brushed teeth still discolor and decay. The reason lies in that clinging film which the old cleaning methods omit.

Cause of Decay

That film is what discolors—the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus the film is the teeth's chief enemy.

It Can Be Ended

Dental science has for years sought a way to end that film, and the way has now been found.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

The way seems simple, but it is not. Pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth, so pepsin long seemed impossible.

What has been found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily and left between the teeth. And millions of teeth are now being cleaned as they never were before.

Watch the Effects

We ask you to watch the effects. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare this method with the old. Read the facts about it. Then decide for yourself what is best.

FREE

A Ten-Day Tube of Pepsodent, this week only, at any store named below.

Tartar and Stain are based on film. This 10-Day Test will show you that they are avoidable. And so is tooth decay.

Look in Ten Days See how white the teeth are—how they glisten. You can see that the film is gone. You will know that teeth can be kept forever whiter and cleaner and safer.

Commissioner Charles J. Morse and family occupied a machine next in line. The 101st Ladies' Auxiliary was represented by Mrs. William H. Merrill, the president; Mrs. George Marshall and Mrs. George Underwood. Paul Marshall was a happy mascot.

Memories of 1861 were refreshed by the appearance of three G.A.R. veterans who nodded appreciation as they passed. They were P. F. Brady, Post 42; John Gallagher, Post 129, and Charles E. Chase, Post 155.

FIRST DIVISION

It was only natural that the first division should be the focus point of all eyes. In it marched the men in whose honor the entire celebration was planned and they received full-hearted acclaim. At the head of the line marched Lieut. James H. Hogan, marshal. Close to 500 soldier and sailor boys were there, including fully 200 from Lowell Post of the American Legion.

As they have come drifting back by twos and threes ever since that day almost a year ago when an armistice brought relief to a war-weary world, they have received the welcome of relatives and friends, but yesterday was the first time the district has seen all its service men together and as a band of stalwart men they were accorded every honor.

The American Legion

The soldiers who preceded the Legion were divided into five platoons, each in charge of a non-commissioned officer, as follows: First, Sergt. Paul Harle; second, Sergt. Major Joseph P. Donahue; third, Sergt. Thomas H. Quinn; fourth, Sergt. Patrick H. Wallace; fifth, Private James E. Markham. A band headed Post 51, American Legion. The platoons of this organization were in command of Sergt. J. J. Devine, First Sergt. Daniel P. Murphy and Sergt. Paul Spillane. It was the first appearance of the Legion as a body and the appearance was splendid.

One hundred or more naval veterans formed a striking feature in their uniform of deep blue, leggings and white caps. They were led by Ensign William H. Kershaw. The first section was in command of Sergt. Thomas H. Scanlon, formerly in the marine corps, while the second section was in charge of Ensign Edward Cawley. A coast artillery anti-aircraft gun was trundled along in the middle of the line. It was tractor mounted, from Fort Banks.

Girls in the Service

Two automobiles filled with service women—telephone operators and army nurses—had a prominent place in the first division. The four telephone girls were Miss Nellie Snow, Miss Eugenie Racicot, Miss Yvonne Gauthier and Miss Blane. The four army nurses were Misses Mary V. McCormack, Mary

V. Carr, Ella Quinn and Marguerite O'Dwyer.

A group of Spanish War Veterans, in full uniform, were commanded by William M. Prescott, with Richard Gibbons, senior vice commander; Patrick Burns, junior vice commander, and Adjutant Frank Dodge as associate leaders.

SECOND DIVISION

Marshal Francis J. Kierce of the Wolfe Tone Guards commanded the second division, which was headed by the Irish Volunteer Drum corps, Thos.

Daly, leader. Conspicuous in the forefront were the American colors and the green, white and orange of the Irish republic. The Wolfe Tone Guards came first with Lieut. Michael J. Monahan in command, while next to them were the Sheridan Guards in command of Lieut. Michael J. McDermott. Both organizations had several service men in their lines.

RETURN TO THE STATUS OF PEACE

Great Rejoicing Throughout France Marks First Day of Return of Peace

"Death" of Censor Celebrated—Civil Authorities Now in Control

PARIS, Monday, Oct. 13. (By the Associated Press.)—General rejoicing by the press over the death of "Anastase" as the censor had been called in France during the war, marked the first day of the return of a state of peace to France today. Military control not only of the press, but of all peace measures for the control of movements of travelers across the frontier as well as inside of France, the supervision of ports, restrictions on importations and other matters which have been in the hands of army officers passed to civil authorities. The right of requisitioning was terminated and the military authorities also lost jurisdiction over certain crimes and misdemeanors, no longer having the right to search private property.

Lifting the state of siege, restoring municipal regulations to the police, will permit restaurants and cafes in Paris to remain open until 1 o'clock in the morning, but there seems to be some doubt whether this practice would be profitable. Parisians have during more than five years acquired the habit of retiring early and waiters are quite satisfied to have them continue this practice, as the night life of Paris does not yield the same revenue that it did before the war. Moreover, the eight-hour law complicates the situation by requiring restaurants and cafes to engage additional help. Only on the boulevards where establishments are supported by foreigners, do proprietors incline to insist upon keeping open until late at night.

Further comment on the resumption of diplomatic relations between France and Germany was provoked by the publication of the presidential decrees this morning. Paul Dutasta who acted as secretary of the peace conference is still one of the most prominent men mentioned as the probable ambassador to Berlin. The well informed Echo de Paris says it had confirmation of the report that he has been selected for the post and that it is expected the German government will at once be asked to approve his nomination. Baron Kurt von Lersner, new German representative at Versailles, who has made a visit to the German embassy on Rue de Lille, is supposed to be Germany's choice as charge d'affaires pending the nomination of an ambassador. France will probably have a charge d'affaires in Berlin temporarily, and the name most frequently mentioned for this post is that of M. Clémence, present charge d'affaires at Bern.

Question has been raised as to whether the sumptuous German embassy should be considered as coming within the category of "German property abroad" that, according to the peace terms, must be applied to the payment of reparations.

Speculation as to the probable administrators in the Sarre valley names G. J. Alapetite, former governor of Tunis, and now ambassador at Madrid.

It was pointed out this morning that the return to the status of peace does not necessarily terminate the moratorium applying to debts, the government intending, it is said, to prolong the time within which the settlement of transactions, held in suspense since 1914, may be required. A question still to be settled is the rate of interest creditors may demand for same due since the moratorium was first decreed. This point will probably be settled by legislation and the moratorium may be prolonged if action is not taken within the time limit fixed by the last decree extending the period of the suspension.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY AMazes PEOPLE OF LYNN

H. H. Chandler, Once a Helpless Cripple From Rheumatism, Says He Owe Perfect Health to Var-Ne-Sis

The medical profession of Lynn, Mass., watched with keen interest the case of Mr. H. H. Chandler of 1A City Hall Sq. Mr. Chandler had incited public sympathy for some time and doctors had considered him an incurable cripple, due to the ravages of rheumatism.

His recovery, which Mr. Chandler attributed wholly to Var-Ne-Sis, was so remarkable that it attracted the attention of not only the medical profession, but of the press. All the facts therefore which are given for the benefit of those suffering from rheumatism, are now a matter of public record.

Testimony of the neighbors is to the effect that he was unable to turn over in bed unassisted. He suffered untold pain, having rheumatic arthritis in every joint. For the purpose of testing the truth of the statement made by so many sufferers from rheumatism that they had been made well with Var-Ne-Sis, the public was invited through the press to watch the course of treatment which Mr. Chandler would undergo.

Today, Mr. Chandler is not only free from rheumatic pains, but is perfectly well, is able to work every day and would not be recognized as the same man by anyone who had seen him before taking this wonderful remedy. This case is but one of the hundreds of similar cases of rheumatic arthritis which have been relieved by the use of Var-Ne-Sis. Almost anybody in Lynn will testify to the truth of Mr. Chandler's recovery.

Var-Ne-Sis does effect relief in the case of rheumatism. It is for sale at all drug stores, in liquid or tablet form.—Adv.

was very essential for Mr. Connors to have a telephone as he is subject to sudden calls from the board of health. He has no phone at the present time. If a pole is not erected in Pleasant street the wires will have to come from Concord or High street and if more wires are strung across the land there, the owners may object and they would all have to come down. He said that the remonstrants who have telephones themselves are endangering their own service by protesting against the erection of a pole. The matter was finally referred to Commissioners Marchand and Murphy.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for a pole location in A street at Puffer was held over for a hearing Oct. 28. The petition of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation for four poles in East Merrimack street between the Eastern canal and Davidson street and for three poles in Dunbar avenue were also referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for permission to erect two poles in Cross street near Mt. Vernon street to give service to William Tighe, brought objections from Timothy F. O'Sullivan and Mrs. H. H. H. The matter was finally ironed out, however, so that the objections were withdrawn and the matter referred.

The petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for two poles in Dracut street between White street and Fourth avenue, was objected to by Mr. Kennedy on the assumption that the poles were to be on the same side of the street on which he lives. When it was brought out that they were to be on the other side of the street, the objection was withdrawn and the matter referred.

TO UNSEAT FITZGERALD

Formal Recommendation
That He Be Ousted and
Seat Awarded to Tague

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Formal recommendation that Representative John F. Fitzgerald of Massachusetts, former mayor of Boston, be ousted from his seat in the house was presented yesterday by an elections committee, headed by Representative Goodhall of Maine. A majority report proposed that Peter F. Tague, former representative, be seated while Representative Luce, republican, Massachusetts, proposed that a new election be ordered by the house. House leaders last night agreed that the committee reports should be called before the house next Saturday for final action.

Fitzgerald's plurality of 235 on the face of the returns was reduced to 10 by the committee canvass of 1300 contested ballots and the discard of the votes cast in three precincts of the 5th ward of Boston on the ground that fully one-third were fraudulent was held by the committee majority, to give Tague the election by 252 votes. Colonization of voters, illegal registration and fraud were the grounds given by the committee for its action.

Holding that it was impossible to show that Tague received a plurality and that the rejection of votes in three precincts was unjustifiable, Representative Luce urged that the house order a new election.

"Illegal registration of which Mr. Tague complains and which furnishes the only sufficient ground for vacating the seat," he declared, "was a consequence of the conditions that Mr. Tague twice accepted when to his advantage and that aroused his protest only when turned to his detriment. He may not profit by fraud in which he has connived."

A TRUE LETTER

East Boston, Mass. The following letter may bring advice to other sufferers:

"Dr. J. F. True & Co.: Having heard that your medicine, Dr. True's Elixir, had been on the market for years and years, I thought possibly my ailments would be helped if I tried it. I have spent many dollars in trying to get a laxative which would agree with me—
so pleasant to take and yet effective.
At last I have it—Dr. True's Elixir.
The Family Laxative and Worm Ex-peller."

For years I have had a poor appetite—any rich foods disagreed with me, and my headaches were frightful. I was troubled with tired feelings, nervous depression, weakness, spots before my eyes, bad breath, sleeplessness, irritability, dizziness and many other signs of sickness.

I can now do a day's housework and

GRACE DIRECT TAKES SANARDO'S MEASURE

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—The Indiana mare, Grace Direct, driven by Earl Beck, was the star performer of the opening of the Grand Circuit races at Lakewood park yesterday, winning the $2500 stake for 2.55 paces over Sanardo, Murphy's star pacer. Grace Direct trailed Sanardo in the first two heats, then outfinished the star of the Murphy stable in two rousing drives, the first heat in 2:02 3/4, the fastest mile of the day.

There were three starters in the 2.09 trot and this was easy for the black Canadian mare, Lou Todd, driven by Vic Fleming. She forgot along in the year to the stretch in all three heats, then came out and won easily.

Homefast, which won the pacing division of the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington last week, was the victor in the 2:12 pace. Driven by "Pop" Geers, she went out in front and won the first two heats rather easily from Wood Patch from the Murphy stable.

LOCAL ELEVEN BEATEN BY WOBURN HIGH

An inability to follow the ball and correctly size up plays directed at the extremities of its line accounted for the downfall of the Lowell high school football team at Woburn yesterday forenoon by the score of 11 to 6. Twice the Woburn boys scored on plays which swung wide around the Lowell ends after the latter had been "sucked in" as for off-tablet snatches. A drop kick by Rice, Woburn quarterback, accounted for three more points.

Lowell's one touchdown came at the end of a steady advance of 60 yards during which an overhead game was well mixed up with straight football.

CHILDREN HAVE THEIR INNINGS

Saturday was the time set apart for the pleasure of the children in the program of the South End celebration and they were fitted to do so. With the fine list of sports conducted for their benefit on the Chambers street playground, the program was in charge of John H. Condon, chairman of the sports committee who was assisted by Michael O'Loughlin, Paul Sadlier and Joe Murphy.

There were prizes for all winners and a free-for-all scramble for a show-off of nickels, about $4 worth. That was the time of the day when the following boys and girls were prize winners in the running events: Boys, William Smith, J. Pagan, W. Linnehan, W. Kane, J. ## BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Many thousands of old and young keep their systems free from the dreadful consequences of constipation by taking Bliss Native Herb Tablets at regular intervals. Those who lead an active outdoor life take one occasionally while others whose work is confining and laborious and are more subject to that condition, retain their health by using them more frequently. Bliss Native Herb Tablets not only relieve constipation but stir up the liver and kidneys, cleanse them of all impurities and restore them to a natural, healthy, active condition. They also purify the blood, and have a general tonic effect on the whole system. The next day bright.

Bliss Native Herb Tablets are put up in two sizes. The large sized box contains six tablets and enough to last the average family six months. Every box carries our money back guarantee. Take no substitutes. Look for the Bliss logo on each box.

Put up in two sizes, $1 and 50c. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. Made by Alonzo G. Bliss Co., Washington, D. C.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Best Hallowe'en "Prevarication" feature this week's bill at H. F. Keith's theatre and two large audiences were kept in tears yesterday at the antics of the venerable comedian. Mr. Baker is well along in years but his viewpoint is that of youth and he succeeds in injecting the spirit of optimism in his work.

Baker plays the part of one Benny Butler, a married man who has formed the unprofitable habit of lying continually to his wife. And like all of his kind, Benny is not into deceiving her every time he strayed from the straight and narrow path plotted by Mr. Washington. He employs a clerk who in addition to his normal duties, is called upon at times to bear the brunt of Benny's wrong-doing. Eventually he rebels and then comes an exciting denouement for all concerned. A pretty girl dresses up the sketch pleasantly and it is enjoyable all the way through.

"At the Sea Shore" is a ventriloquist novelty presented by Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace, a breezy style. The pair have been heard here previously but this year their act envelopes a lot of new features. The scenic background is one of the most novel bits of illusion seen here in some time. It gives the appearance of real up and doing ocean with swimmers and boats making their way about the water. The life-saver dummy is one of Mr. McCormick's funniest characters. Miss Wallace is good to look upon and an expert in her line of work.

"Two Jazz Deaux" are Frank and Milt Britton, the program says, and they certainly live up to their title. Nylonhones, trombones and cornets figure largely in their act and there is jazz from beginning to end. Those who like this kind of music will get their fill of it from the work of the Brittons.

Searl Allen in "The New Taxi Start-off" offers a monologue strictly up to the minute in which features of present day life are commented upon freely and humorously. Laura Lyman makes a pretty assistant.

Gertrude Lindley and her company offer a classy jazz act with a little talk woven in. Miss Dudley is a 100 per cent blonde and makes a stunning appearance.

DeLano and Pike are expert tumblers and jugglers and their hand balancing is startling. They work in a lot of real comedy and at no time does their offering border on the mundane.

Barbette introduces a lot of new trapeze features and opens the bill.

OPERA HOUSE

"Polly With a Past," a side-splitting comedy drama in three acts by George Middleton and Guy Bolton, is the offering of the Lowell Players at the Opera House this week, and is one of the most mirth-provoking plays that Lowell theatre-goers have ever witnessed. The first performances given yesterday afternoon and last evening were both enjoyed by large audiences and all indications point to big houses during the remainder of the week.

Getting down to the story, the first thing one discovers is a young man who is very much in love with a girl who does not seem the least bit in love with him. She's strong for social uplift, is this little girl, and believes that the best way to spend one's time is in throwing out the life-line to all the human derelicts encounters.

So the lovesick young man, who is none other than the popular leading man, John Meehan, evolves a scheme, with the aid of his friends, to himself become a derelict, and thus induce his prospective fiancée to throw the life-line in his direction. Being a most model young man, and having none of the vices commonly ascribed to the sterner sex, this is something of a problem, but it is finally solved by persuading the young man's chum's housemaid to play the role of a French adventuress, who ensnares the lover in her toils, and thereby gives the uplift maiden a chance to "save" him.

We think we're told you enough about this pleasing little comedy now, and if you wish to find out who the wedding bells ring for at the end of the final act, just drop in to this cozy little playhouse some time this week, and we'll guarantee you'll not feel disappointed. And, oh yes, we almost forgot to tell you—the housemaid was a minister's daughter before she was elected to act as the "vamp" from gay Paris!

Miss Margaret Fields, the popular leading woman, who has been endeavoring herself to local audiences with each succeeding week, added even more friends last evening by her capable and happy treatment of the role assigned her, that of the minister's daughter who suddenly had a long and wicked past thrust upon her. John Meehan who co-stars with Miss Fields in the leading characterizations, again proved that his reputation as a laugh-producer has been well-earned, and his fine interpretation of the part of the aforesaid lovesick young man won him the plaudits of the audience throughout the play. William Melville and Itai Crane, in the roles of the chums of the man who is "vamped," also did their bit in helping to extract the fun from this enjoyable production.

Director Kirk's setting and production of "Polly With a Past" deserves a special word of commendation. Rarely have local audiences been treated to such splendid scenic effects and harmonious color schemes as this capable director displays this week, and these were fully appreciated by those who attended the theatre yesterday afternoon and evening.

CELEBRATION ENDS

South End Committee Entertains Guests at Congratulatory Dinner

Greetings and congratulations, words of appreciation and hopes of continued success marked the dinner given for the members of the South End celebration committee and invited guests in Lincoln hall immediately after the dismissal of the parade yesterday noon. In a manner it brought the four-day event to a close and as the men who had planned it sat about the tables and discussed an excellent menu, good fellowship was mixed with a feeling of satisfaction over a deed well done.

While these men were being dined at Lincoln hall, all of the clubs throughout the district were entertaining groups of soldiers and sailors and friends, the merry-making in several instances continuing well into the evening. The whole was a feast of contemplation and many a toast was spoken in honor of the men in uniform.

The executive committee dinner was most complete and exceptionally well served and appetites whetted to a keener edge by the long walk and bracing October air were wholly satisfied. Daniel Cosgrove, chairman of the general committee, presided as toastmaster and among the speakers introduced were the following: Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., Rev. James Bancroft, Rev. Thomas Mark-

Dinner was ready to be served by Peter Harvey the moment the guests entered the hall, previous arrangements being in the capable hands of John J. Gilbride and Charles A. Donaghy. As the dinner finished, Toastmaster Cosgrove introduced Mayor Thompson as the first speaker. His Honor said there was almost no limit to what a city might do for her service men and women and urged hearty co-operation in making civilian walks in life easier for the returned soldiers and sailors.

Rev. Dr. Keleher was the next speaker and he emphasized his heart-felt interest in the service men.

"I am old enough," he said, "to realize what you men went up against when you left the city and I realized the seriousness of the situation when the country declared war. I saw 40,000 Italian parades in Rome, I saw the crack British regiments parade in London and I saw the legions of France and Belgium. I also saw the Germans in a parade and I will say I never saw a more magnificent body of fighting men until you got at them. I saw this country going into the struggle as one country and under one flag—the starry banner—and they all forgot their racial difficulties and whether or not they were in sympathy with our allies in arms. We saw you young fellows leaving home, wives and sweethearts to go into that struggle and you did not know what you were going into."

"And it was a magnificent sight to watch the multitudes at home who were working for you every minute and backing you to the limit. Our churches were filled with fathers and mothers praying for your return, or praying that if you were called upon to make the supreme sacrifice your souls would be white in the face of God and praying that He might bring victory to your cause. And we have lived to see you return victorious and we are glad."

Other speakers followed in rapid order, each limiting himself to a few happy remarks, expressing appreciation if needed and thankfulness for co-operation in making the celebration such a success. Mrs. William H. Merrill, spoke for the 101st Ladies' Auxiliary.

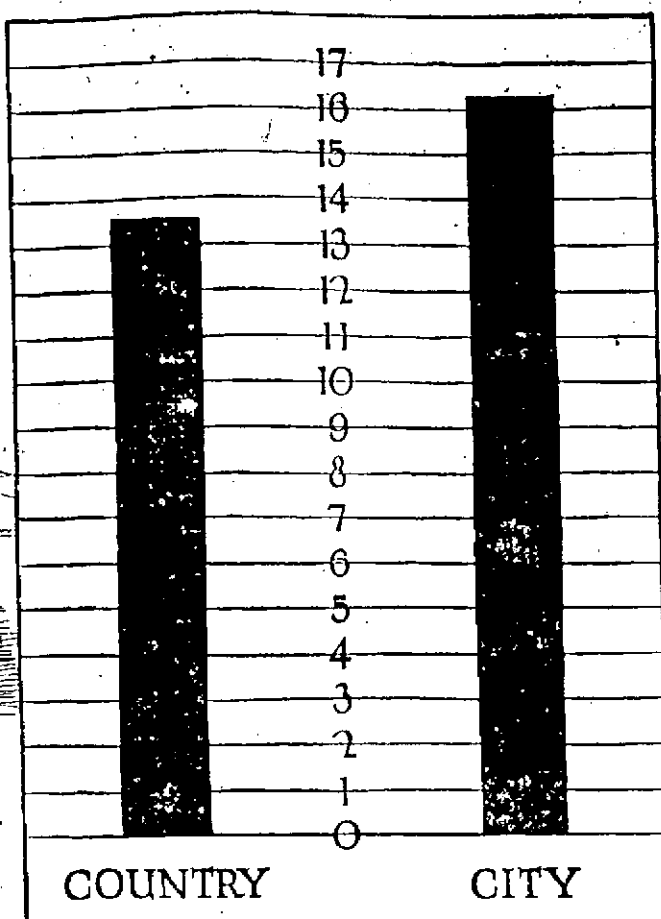

Such a gathering would not be complete at such a time without a serious moment of thought for the boys who might have been in line yesterday, but who sacrificed all in democracy's cause. For 30 seconds the gathering rose and stood with bowed heads out of respect for those who never will return.

As chairman of the general committee, Mr. Cosgrove expressed general appreciation of the efforts of all individuals and organizations who through generous donations of time and money took a helpful part in the celebration. The dinner came to a close with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

On country roads the yielding earth cushions your feet against the jars of walking

According to figures for the latest five year period covered by the last census, the death rate in cities is 21.6% greater than in the country districts. The figures show 16.3 deaths per thousand in cities; 13.4 per thousand in the country.

On the hard, modern pavements of cities, every step on hard leather heels is pounding away your energy

Are you exposing yourself to the danger of "city diseases"?

CERTAIN diseases are so prevalent in cities that doctors call them "city diseases."

Tuberculosis, Bright's disease, heart trouble are ailments known to be common among people who live in cities.

In the last five year period covered by census figures, the death rate in cities is shown to be higher than in country districts by 21 per cent.

These conditions are due largely to the manner in which city people live. The average city worker spends at least five-sixths of his time indoors. If he is out-of-doors more than four hours in every twenty-four, he can count himself fortunate.

The city worker seldom walks. He travels from home to business in crowded cars or trains. He works all day stooped over a desk, a machine or a counter. Indeed, medical men state that the average city worker uses no more than a third of his lung capacity—that about 400 muscles of his body have actually become weakened through disuse.

Is it any wonder that we are susceptible to countless ailments; is it any wonder that the city death rate is so high under these conditions of living?

Walking, the one great exercise which every man should enjoy, has become a burden. Too often it contributes directly to that over-fatigued condition which makes the city dweller an easy prey to illness.

In his usual routine the average city worker takes 8,000 steps a day, on hard, modern floors and pavements. If you wear nail-studded leather heels you give your body 8,000 jolts and jars a day—for every step with hard heels on still harder pavements acts as a hammer blow to your entire nervous system. The constant repetition of these shocks exhausts your energy, helps to bring on over-fatigue, with its ever-present threat of serious illness.

Yet walking on hard pavements need not be any more fatiguing than walking on turf. Walking can easily be made a pleasure and a benefit.

Modern pavements are built for modern traffic. You can't bring back the yielding dirt streets of many years ago—the streets for which leather heels were made, but you can cushion your feet against the jolts and jars that make walking a burden. You can replace hard, old-fashioned heels with O'Sullivan's Heels of live, springy rubber.

What gives a rubber heel "life"

It is not just the rubber that gives O'Sullivan's

Heels their springiness and wearing qualities.

Rubber, as you know, can be made hard and brittle as in fountain pens or soft and crumbly as in pencil erasers. To secure the resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are "compounded" with the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

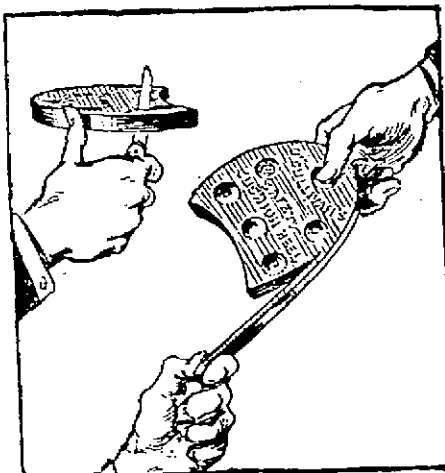

By this special process the greatest resiliency is combined with the utmost durability.

It is this special process that has, since the making of the first rubber heel, established O'Sullivan's Heels as the standard of rubber heel quality.

Guaranteed to outlast any other heels

O'Sullivan's Heels are guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary rubber heels; and will outlast three pairs of leather heels.

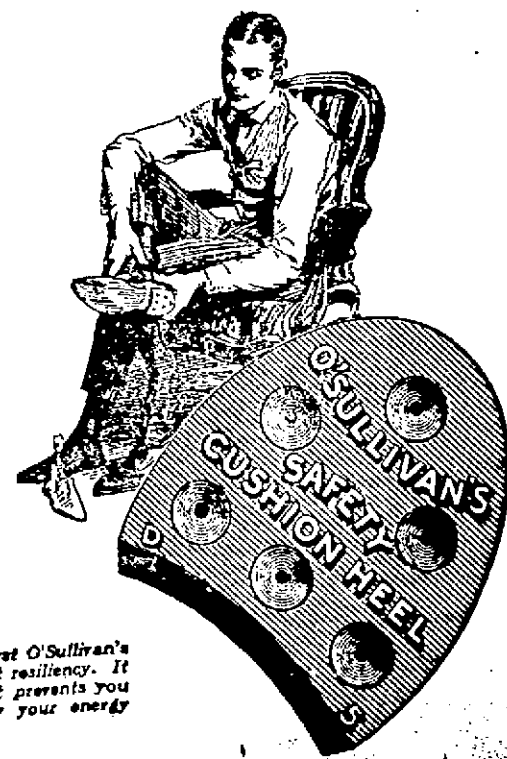

Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes. O'Sullivan's Heels are furnished in black, white or tan; for men, women and children. Specify O'Sullivan's Heels, and be sure that you get O'Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes.

If an O'Sullivan Heel is cut along the side so that a thin strip of rubber is left attached at one end, that strip will have great elasticity—it can be stretched several inches. With an ordinary rubber heel the material snaps in two before it has stretched to any great degree. This test proves the remarkable resiliency and durability of O'Sullivan's Heels.

One out of every four persons in Greater New York wears O'Sullivan's Heels. Fully a quarter of New York's vast population finds that O'Sullivan's Heels prevent over-fatigue from the jolts and jars of walking.

O'Sullivan's Heels

Absorb the shocks that tire you out

When you try your first O'Sullivan's Heels, note their great resiliency. It is this resiliency that prevents you from pounding away your energy

BOY KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Joseph Zamoni, aged 14 years, and residing at 42 North Street, died at St. John's hospital yesterday noon as a result of being struck by an automobile at the corner of North and Lawrence streets. The boy had his skull fractured, his jaw broken and he received lacerations of the right arm. Immediately after the accident he was rushed to the hospital, but died a few minutes after his arrival. The automobile was operated by Charles O. Bond of 125 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, who reported the accident to the police.

South End Welcome Home

of the parade in variety and numbers. It was made up of fraternal organizations, which made a very fine showing. Marshal John W. Sharkey led the march accompanied by James M. Fagan as chief aid and John J. Droney, John Calnan, John Ryan, Thomas Keegan and William F. Sadler as aids. They were followed by the United States Cartridge Co. band. The first organization in line was the Mathew Temperance Institute, 100 strong, all wearing white carnations on their coat lapels. Paul Merrill acted as their marshal and was assisted by President Frank Reilly. Following them were the members of the Lowell series of Eagles, headed by Buckley's band. There were over 200 men of this organization in line, who were led by Vice President James J. Ward and Vice President James Boland. The banner of the order was carried by Jerry Reardon, U. S. N., while the American colors were borne by Joseph Convery, U. S. N. Mixed in the line were numerous men in soldiers and sailors' uniforms.

The members of Christopher Columbus society came next and their musicians were the members of the Italian Roma band. There were about 100 men in line and all wore the regulation cap of their society. They were led by President Dominie Bernadini. Vicenzo Zabba carried the society banner, Joseph Riani, the American flag and B. Salome, the Italian colors. Then came the members of St. Antonio de Padua society with President Fred D'Arcezo acting as marshal. The banner of the society was carried by Frank Vello, the American flag by Flavona Dinaldi and the Italian colors by Carlo Selpitz. Heading the society was a group of ponies bearing the following children: John Bradford, Dorothy and Helen Rodden and Evelyn Downs.

The rear of the third division was taken up by four Portuguese societies with about 300 men in line. The first was St. Anthony's, which had for marshal, President Mathew Thomas. Then came St. Joseph's led by John S. Peter and then the A. P. M. headed by Antonio P. Barros. The last was St. John's, marshaled by Frank C. Quadrelli.

FOURTH DIVISION
Marshal William P. Cox headed the fourth division, which was made of clubs and which was one of the most interesting in the long line because of its many handsome floats. The Victory Fife and Drum corps of Billerica furnished music for this section. The head of the line was taken up by the Hustlers and Buffalos, combined, who carried small American flags. William P. Cox acted as marshal of this division, while Michael O'Laughlin headed the Hustlers and Buffalos. Following the men were two floats gotten up by the Buffalos, the first representing "The Peace Conference" with Mary Carmody as "Columbia"; Sadie Fitzgerald as "Erie"; Della Finnegan as "Justice" and Josephine Finnegan as "Liberty". Mary Frawley represented "Peace". The other float consisted of a large truck containing two graves with the familiar white crosses. Upon the shaft were seated Francis Campbell and Harry Mulligan of the O. M. U. Cadets, as well as little James Richards.

The float of the Bellevues consisted of a large truck bearing a globe surmounted by a white dove, representing "Peace" with J. L. Davidson of the Canadian army, Charles Carvel and Thomas McArdle of the navy, Walter P. Marshall and Harry D. Nudd of the American army standing at both ends of the car. The decorations around the float were superb.

The float of the Lisbon club was an artistic piece of work for its decorations were handsome. It consisted of a sort of merry-go-round with little Miss Margaret Pacheco comfortably seated on top of it. Under her hang

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poisons Start to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, do not stop his agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony were intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed A. W. Dows & Co. to guarantee it in every instance. Adv.

U. S. STORES SALES $300,000 IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct.—Sales from ten stores established to dispose of the government's surplus stock of $100,000,000 worth of food and clothing, aggregated in one week nearly $300,000.

From Sept. 25, when the stores were opened, to Oct. 1, the Atlanta store sales amounted to $2000, Baltimore $11,700, Boston $53,300, Charleston $2500, Columbus $47,000, Newport News $14,000, Philadelphia $33,000, New York $70,000.

"We have had some complaints of discrimination since we went into the food business," said Col. L. M. Purcell, chief of the surplus property division, purchase and supply, Washington. "Some say they don't have a chance to buy because the store isn't located in their neighborhood."

"But this complaint is not well founded, for we sell at the same price in other parts of the district that we sell for over the counter. An average of about one-tenth of the goods are sold at the seat of the store and the other nine-tenths set aside for parcel post orders."

"The government pays the postage," Col. Purcell estimates that merchants throughout the country have been forced to lower prices on articles similar to the government commodities by from 15 to 20 per cent.

Incidentally, the stores prove that retailers and wholesalers have been profiteering. The government fixed its price at the present cost from the manufacturers, plus a reasonable profit to all handlers till the food reaches the consumers.

The impression in some parts that the government stores had failed and that Uncle Sam was preparing to sell out on sealed bids is incorrect. On the contrary, the people are demonstrating their desire to save by buying these supplies direct, and no proposition for sealed bids is now outstanding.

AUTOMOBILE WRECKED

R. H. Duhamel, aged 25 years and residing in Nashua, N. H., was found in a dazed condition on the Nashua boulevard Saturday evening, while an automobile which he said was his was located in a field about 50 feet from the roadway. Duhamel was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital, where it was found that his injuries were of a minor nature. When questioned about what happened the Nashua man said he was operating the car on his way to his home and had a companion with him and that is all he could remember. It is believed that the man lost control of the steering apparatus and that the car turned turtle. No trace of the companion could be found so it is believed that he was uninjured and was able to go home. The automobile was wrecked.

DENATURED ALCOHOL

Completely denatured alcohol, before being sold by either wholesaler or retailer, must now have under the familiar skull and bones symbol a new label printed in red bearing the word "poison" and a statement showing the injurious effects it has upon the skin and animal tissues. This change in labelling is due to a ruling by the internal revenue bureau following reports of the abuses of completely denatured alcohol. Dealers handling the product are obliged under severe penalties to comply with the law.

BOY HIT BY AUTO

Walter Keoley, aged 8 years and residing at 2 Emory street, was struck by an automobile owned and operated by Carl Schulze of 329 Bridge street at the corner of Chelmsford and Powell streets Saturday evening and received minor injuries. The little fellow, so it is claimed, was playing in the street when the machine came along and never moved when he saw the approaching car. Brakes were applied but the automobile could not be brought to a stop before the collision occurred. The boy was treated at St. John's hospital.

FREE FOR THIS VISIT

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity, and if you are suffering, you should not fail to take advantage of it. Those wishing to see him should remember the Days, Dates and Office Hours of his visits and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

For nearly 15 years I have been studying the Chemistry of food and the Chemistry of the human body. I have put these two sciences together and formulated the science of Applied Food Chemistry. By the application of this knowledge I cure all forms of stomach and intestinal diseases, and all other disorders that result from wrong eating and drinking. This method cannot fail because it conforms to the laws of Nature.

It is estimated that ninety-two per cent of all diseases are caused by errors in eating. These errors are made by wrong selections, wrong combinations, and wrong proportions of food. I teach you how to correct these, how to select, how to combine and how to proportion your food according to your age and your occupation. This cures by removing causes. It gives Nature a chance. This is the true science of human nutrition, and it is governed by laws as infallible as the laws of gravitation. If you obey them you cannot be sick. If you do not obey them you cannot be well.

You have no idea what your body is capable of, until you have it perfectly nourished. You have no idea what your mind is capable of, until it lives in a perfectly nourished body.

You have no idea of the joy of living until every bone, tissue, muscle and organ of the body is brought up to 100% efficiency, which my system does.

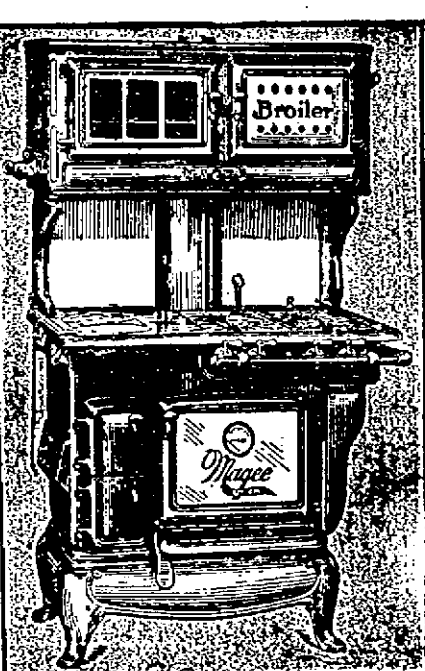

If you are sick or have any kind of stomach or intestinal trouble it will require a short term of curative feeding—then I balance the diet so as to give to the body all the elements of nourishment it requires according to your age and your occupation.

If medicine is needed in any case I prescribe only such remedies that do not conflict with the proper diet. I get results and this ends all argument.

DR. NAUGHTON will positively be at the New American Hotel, Wednesday, Oct. 15th, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

DEMOCRATIC ISSUES

Senator Penrose, republican "boss" of the present congress, has announced that "it is not likely" there will be any revision of the tariff or lowering of the present tax schedules until after the next presidential election, or, in other words, until a new congress convenes in March, 1921.

This surprisingly frank statement from the recognized republican leader can only be accepted as a confession of the inability of the republican majority in both houses of congress to deal with the intricate economic problems growing out of the war. This confession is in striking contrast with the promises of the republicans just prior to the last congressional election that if restored to power in the legislative halls in Washington they would prove their fitness as reconstructionists.

Senator Penrose offers the existing political and industrial chaos as an excuse for his announced "do nothing" policy. In his statement he refers only to the tariff and revenue questions. He might just as well have admitted the whole truth—known to all men in touch with the situation in congress—that the controlling majority has no solution for any of the economic difficulties now confronting the country.

President Wilson proposed a program of reconstruction for the republicans at the opening of the present special session, which session, the republicans clamored for so they "might get to work." The president, whose vision had foreseen the unrest that would be engendered if relief measures were not forthcoming, pointed out specifically what should be done.

Not so foolish as to suggest that the entire tariff structure be made over, as Senator Penrose virtually proposed in May, the president confined his import recommendations to essentials, such as the dyestuffs and chemical industries built up during the war. He urged a weapon of retaliation in our tariff laws, "in case other governments should enact legislation unequal in its bearing on our products as compared with the products of other countries." He asked that early consideration be given to tax revision, pointing out that many of the minor taxes made necessary by the pressing necessities of war time, particularly the excises upon various manufactures and the taxes upon retail sales, could now be repealed. The latter include the so-called luxury taxes upon wearing apparel, etc. Although experience has shown that in the main these taxes on retail sales have proved more annoying than profitable, the republicans have done nothing to eliminate them, notwithstanding that the democrats were only prevented from erasing these bothersome taxes from the statute books by a republican senate filibuster in the closing days of the last congress.

Even the most sanguine republicans have little hope that the present session will witness any solution of the railroad question. The president four months ago called on the controlling republican majority in congress to draft the necessary legislation that would permit the transfer of the railroads from government control. Nothing has been done that promises concrete action before the special session ends and the regular session begins in December. And so it is with the president's proposals regarding labor and the other questions that the republicans in the campaign of a year ago promised to quickly dispose of.

Truly, Senator Penrose's statement is a confession both of avoidance and incapacity. The Pennsylvania "statesman," with peculiar effrontery, now seeks to hold out the hope to the country that if a republican president and another republican congress are elected next year, all the existing vexing problems will be solved. We commend to Senator Penrose and his associates the immortal words of Abraham Lincoln:

"You may fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

OUR WINGED PIONEERS

Explorers and adventurers of the air have flown mighty distances. This summer the ocean was spanned. Between the Columbus and the Lewis and Clark of aviation is a long roll of heroic names. The transcontinental derby, stupendous in range and in the extent of its brilliant entry list, does not excite the public mind as much as the past feats of daring have done. But think what it means! There have been assembled for this great endeavor the pick of modern aircraft and the pick of modern airmen. All makers, all nations, all theories of design are represented.

Its significance is practical rather than romantic, despite the lofty qualities of sportsmanship called forth. The United States government will analyze every detail of the achievements and the mishaps of the many contestants. The day of practical, utilitarian flying will be brought that much nearer as a result of the substantial material gained through this epic test of machines and men.

Death put its mark on the undertaking at the outset. But no one quailed or flinched. An older generation of Americans went westward, following the explorations of a fearless few, to take possession of the wilderness. The "cross continent fliers" are crowding into hours and days the perils which these other pioneers endured over months and years.

There still is a question mark after future of aviation. The automobile, at the end of its first decade of use, was an interesting experiment in contrast to its present status. What America did with the motor car America is doing with the airplane. In the air derby, the spirit of the old frontier still lives, with undiminished vigor.—N. E. A.

ACCIDENT FATALITIES

Formerly the greater number of fatalities from Lowell resulted from drowning in the local rivers and canals, but since the establishment of the ice parks in the winter and wading pools and bath houses in the summer, there has been a great reduction in the number of drownings. When the late Larry W. J. Howe was alive he dug up a list of the names of persons who had been drowned in the waterways of Lowell, numbering over 500. For the last few years we are glad to say that there have been comparatively few drownings either of bathers in the rivers and canals or of skaters through thin ice.

Recently most of the fatalities in our city are the result of automobile accidents on the public streets and the highways leading outward to the suburbs. There is a great deal of reckless driving within the city limits and even on thickly settled streets where speeding is strictly prohibited. Once some drivers get upon the highway they forget all about the speed laws with the result that accidents occur even to those who exercise extreme care.

By far the greatest number of accidents, however, results from children running across the streets in front of automobiles or at the tail end of street cars and motor trucks. For these accidents the parents in many cases are directly responsible because they allow their children to run at large on the streets, catching onto passing vehicles and making a playground even of the busiest streets.

HOLDING THE BONDS

Too many Liberty Bonds are being lost, misplaced or stolen. Most of us are careless in their handling. Liberty Bonds are kept in store and office safes with doors open and in unlocked drawers; men carry them in their pockets, women in their handbags and even large financial institutions send them through the streets in open packages by irresponsible messenger boys. Hardly a week goes by that this newspaper does not recount the brief, Coal Oil Johnnie-like career of some lad who has sold Liberty Bonds entrusted to his care.

We do not apply the same reason of value in the keeping of our Liberty Bonds that we did in their purchase. A Liberty Bond has a value of its market price the same as so much cash. More in fact, for it bears interest. All issues will doubtless go to a premium and they are easily converted into cash by their bearer. That is why they should not be sold right away. But few of us seem to apply the same imagination to the care of a Liberty Bond that all of us do to the same amount in cash. Why not apply the same care to the keeping of a 50-dollar government bond that we do to a dollar bill or the loose change in our pockets?—N. E. A.

TANK INVENTORS

In England there is a big controversy over who invented the tank that cut such a figure in the world war and was really the best machine produced with the exception of the airplane. It was for a time the terror of the Germans, but they managed to get hold of a tank and then made more formidable tanks of their own.

It appears that the tank was a composite product comprising the best features of as many as a dozen inventions submitted to the war department. About the same time tanks and tractors were produced in this country, so that England can scarcely claim the entire credit of having originated them. The tank, however, was the most potent and effective engine of destruction that had its origin in the necessity of meeting the Germans with something that they could not match and that with comparative impunity could plow through the enemy hosts, spreading death on all sides. The inventors of the tank in its practical and final form, whether they are two men, ten or twenty, should be rewarded.

THE SUGAR FAMINE

Families having young children are sorely perplexed by the lack of sugar. It is asked by many how some dealers get sugar while others don't. The answer is, that in most cases the successful ones pay a premium on what they get, feeling that this service will draw trade in other lines.

It is a notable fact that very few customers can get sugar at any store by asking for that alone, and even when they purchase other supplies, they are often told that there is no sugar. The condition is becoming serious for the families which have babies to feed. Infants fed on the bottle will not take food that is not sweetened as usual. Without the usual supply of sugar, therefore, they whine and get sick. The sugar famine, therefore, will increase the death rate. Some public body should arrange to furnish a reasonable supply of sugar for the families in which there are babies. Adults can go without sugar but the babies can't without serious injury to their health.

The South End welcome home parade was one of the finest in the history of the city. In every detail it was highly creditable to the committee in charge, the men in line and the organizations that aided. The floats were particularly praiseworthy and the feature of having the families who lost boys in the war form a separate contingent in autos, was thoughtful and appropriate. Chief Marshal James E. Donnelly and Chairman Daniel Cosgrove were liberally congratulated on the success of their efforts as the leading spirits in organizing the celebration. The boys in khaki and those in sailors' uniform were cordially greeted by the thousands of people who lined the route from start to finish.

We notice that the street department is putting in granolithic sidewalks. These are not only expensive, but dangerous. The old fashioned concrete sidewalk, if well laid, is much better and more durable. Except where the foundation is dry and solid, the granolithic sidewalk soon splits up and becomes a total loss. If it remains, its slippery surface is likely to be the cause of many claims for damages being lodged against the city. Thus it is doubly expensive.

Whether the letter written by Senator Moses of New Hampshire does or does not state the nature of President Wilson's illness correctly, it shows bad faith on the part of the writer. It gives out an alarming rumor as truth and thus stirs not only the nation but some other countries as well.

Milkmen and arc lamp tenders who break glass on the streets should not leave it to be picked up in pinholes by the tires of passing automobiles, yet this is just what they do in most cases. The police would do well to discipline a few of these reckless smashers.

BIDS ON AUDITORIUM

No Restriction on Non-Union Labor and Materials—

Opening of Bids Tomorrow

On account of a number of protests from non-union concerns and contractors who have open shops, employing union and non-union labor, the memorial auditorium commissioners met Saturday evening and eliminated from the specifications for the erection of the auditorium the clause confining labor and materials used on the project to union shops. As a result, all are now enabled to send proposals to the commission.

The commission will receive sealed proposals for the erection and completion of the auditorium tomorrow forenoon from 11 to 11.30 in the alternate chamber at city hall. All bids will be opened at 11.30 and the proposals publicly read. Present at the opening will be Mr. Blackall of the firm of Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, architects of the proposed building; Harry Prescott Graves, their local associate, and the entire auditorium commission. After the proposals have been read the commission will hold a meeting.

RUSSIAN PIANIST AT OPERA HOUSE

Rachmaninoff, renowned Russian pianist, composer and director, came to the Lowell Opera House Sunday evening and splendidly ushered in the fall season of musical art. With Paderewski, he stands in the forefront of the musical world today and a far-sighted audience heard him with great delight.

One might say of Rachmaninoff that he simply plays. Relying not at all upon superficial flourishes or artistic gestures, he sits before his beloved instrument and allows his interpretative genius to roll off his nimble finger tips with unostentatious grace. His hands are at all times under perfect control and although he has a physique of power, chords of lace-like beauty spring from his wonderful fingers. Indeed he deserves his position of prominence among the masters of the piano. The audience was particularly interested in the program inasmuch as it embraced a group of numbers of his own composition, one of which, the Prelude in C Sharp Minor, has made his name familiar to all musicians. The closing number, the waltz tune from Faust, perhaps brought him more acclaim than any of the others. He seemed to give his whole soul to this arrangement and at its conclusion was forced to bow his acknowledgment time after time.

The concert was arranged by R. E. Saul of Lawrence and his successful efforts in bringing the famous pianist to this city should indeed be appreciated in the fullest measure.

KNIGHTS OBSERVE COLUMBUS DAY

Columbus day was appropriately observed yesterday by Lowell council, No. 72, Knights of Columbus, when a large number of the members marched in a body from the council rooms in Associate building to St. Peter's church to attend mass at 9.30 o'clock. The line was headed by the Lowell Cadet band and members of the Fourth Degree assembly in full regalia.

Rev. Daniel J. Hoffmann, chaplain of the council, celebrated the mass and delivered a brief sermon on the significance of the day. He said that from the landing of Columbus and the dedication of this continent to God, the first principle of Knighthood has been love of God and country. As all authority comes from God, the truly religious man must be ready to uphold the lawful authority vested in organized government and hence religion includes patriotism or love of country. He referred to the inspiring patriotism with which the Knights responded to their country's call in the late war and said that with such men ever ready to fight and even to make the supreme sacrifice for the flag, the nation need have no fear that any such menace as the social monster of Bolshevism will ever gain a lasting foothold on the soil of this republic. "To unceasing warfare against every such menace to our government you men of the Knights of Columbus are specially dedicated from the very moment you enter the portals of your noble order."

Following the mass the members marched to the rooms and were dismissed. Grand Knight George Brigan and Marshal Thomas B. Delaney were in the lead.

SPOKE ON AMERICANIZATION
Mayor Perry D. Thompson was the principal speaker at two well-attended meetings at the Armenian church on Lawrence street and the Greek church on Jefferson street Sunday evening.

MRS. HENRI CHAPDELAINE

I was in such a weakened condition that I had no courage for anything, and the best part of my time was passed in resting, as I was always tired. This state of affairs was brought on by the fact that I had to start working at a very early age. My grandmother, who had used RED PILLS and had great confidence in them, made me take them for a while and they did me an immense amount of good. In fact, after taking them regularly I am now in the best of health, have a good complexion and am happy to be feeling so good.

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

Election of officers for the ensuing year was held at the annual business meeting of the Immanuel Baptist church Sunday evening and resulted as follows: President, Rev. A. A. Warner; vice president, Roscoe Thomas and C. O. Leadbetter; secretary, Rev. H. A. Cornell; treasurer, W. B. Symonds; chairman of missionary committee, Rev. W. E. Woodbury; social committee, Rev. Earle T. Favro; membership committee, Richard Gumb; business committee, W. T. Shepard.

Following an appealing supper, served by the women of the church, Rev. W. Quay Roselle of Malden made an address on the topic: "The New Day for the Baptists," in which he said that many traditions are being "scrapped" in these modern days and urged his hearers to keep in line with modern progress.

DIMPLES G.—Your complexion is not merely in the very deeper than that. It is that part of the skin immediately underneath the outer layer. Complexion creams which merely affect the outer layer are as a rule very ineffectual. A method gaining wide use because of its tremendous success lies in the use of zintone, a powder which is simply mixed at home with a little glycerine and dissolved in water. This makes an exquisite cream. The zintone can be secured at any drug store in ounce packages for 50 cents. This is also a very economical method. By liberal use of this article, a tremendous difference in the complexion is noted in a few days by the disappearance of muddiness, sallowness, red spots, freckles and other blemishes.

MRS. G. F. O. C.—Yes, you can easily remove blackheads in a few moments, even while you are seated in the toilet. And to think you have been years trying to get rid of these embarrassing blackheads! On a hot wet cloth sprinkle some powder of zintone, which you can get at the drug store for 5 cents, and rub this over the affected skin. You will find the blackheads will be entirely gone in a few moments. Continue this method every few days.

MRS. C. A.—By all means you should not use mechanical instruments for hair development. Use a safe formula, by mixing two ounces of rheolone, half a cup of sugar and half pint of water. Two tablespoonsful of this after each meal, and one at bedtime, will in most instances do wonderful work. Of course, no one can promise sure results in any case, but this formula should do the work.—Adv.

STRIKERS DENOUNCED

Rev. Michael J. Dwyer Says
Boston Police "Got What
They Deserved"

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Declaring that if he were occupying his former position he would class the striking policemen of Boston as deserters, Rev. Michael J. Dwyer, assistant pastor at St. John's church, Rensselaer, and formerly assistant district attorney at Boston, scathingly condemns the Hub policemen for the manner in which they sought to force the granting of the demands and the recognition of their union.

He denounced in no uncertain terms the men who left the city of Boston to the tender mercies of hoodlums, burglars, murderers and other exponents of vice.

Acquainted With Conditions

He said that during his term as assistant district attorney in Boston he had become acquainted with conditions in that city, and he thoroughly believed that the policemen of Boston should be paid more money, as well as receiving other necessary improvements in their working conditions.

"But they did not go at it in the right manner," declared Fr. Dwyer. "They merely issued an ultimatum to the commissioner declaring their intention of striking if he discharged 19 of their members who had already joined a labor union."

"I have learned that the commissioner told them that, no matter what the circumstances were, they had taken an oath to God that they would protect the lives and property of citizens of Boston and they broke that oath."

"Because of the present strike in Boston the policeman has found that public sentiment is arrayed against him. The citizens have no sympathy for the policeman who left their fixed posts of duty and left them at the mercy of lawless mobs who were waiting for the chance to loot and pillage one of the greatest cities in the United States."

He did not sympathize with the policemen when they decided that, with public opinion against them and in view of the action of Governor Coolidge and Commissioner Curtis in getting a new force to take their places, they were ready to come back. He pointed out that the policemen took an oath almost similar to that of a soldier, that they deserted their posts, and now that their jobs were being filled they were ready to come back. "They got just what they deserved," said Fr. Dwyer.

"Personally, I do not believe policemen should affiliate with the national labor body because they may at some time or other be forced to uphold the law against the depredations of lawless strikers. If they were members of a union connected with the national body and on an equal footing with the average union man, they would be caught between two fires. In a controversy between the laboring man and his employer, the policeman in the event of a strike might be asked to go out in sympathy with them, thereby forgetting his oath to the city that employs him. This cannot be. The policeman should never be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

SHIPWRECKED CREW SAVED BY LANDSMAN

N.E.A. Special to The Sun

WASHINGTON, October.—The loss of the freighter, Corydon, which sank off the west coast of Florida in a heavy gale, would have been one more mystery of the sea had it not been for a landlubber.

This story, as told in the shipping board office, contains all the elements of sea romance.

The captain who could not be persuaded to leave his doomed command. The sailor who, crazed from drinking salt water, stabbed the mate in the swamped lifeboat.

Two days and a night of struggle with gigantic waves, with madness and death pressing close.

Frank Addison, representing the federal shipping board as supercargo, or business agent, on the Corydon was directly responsible for saving the lives of the eight men who reached here.

Cut Boats Away

"I asked the captain several times to send out an S.O.S.," said Addison, "but he wouldn't. So the third mate and I got our razors and tried to cut away one of the boats. The Corydon was settling rapidly and her pumps were out of commission."

"The first boat we tried to launch was jammed against the davits by a big wave. The captain did nothing, said nothing, but stood by as though in a daze. He had a wife and child ashore.

"I YELLED AT THE

"A wave threw me against the port lifeboat. I was barged and bruised, but I began cutting at the boat's lashings when another wave threw me into the boat, which was floating. The Corydon was low on the port side. I cut the boat loose, drifted around the vessel and yelled at the men to jump. Ten of them did and nine of them got into the boat. We had not drifted 200 yards when the Corydon sank. I saw the captain standing by the bridge. He refused to jump."

"I put out the sea anchor and it was torn to shreds. We bound all of the oars, except one, into a bundle and threw them overboard as an anchor, but they were snapped into pieces by the first wave. Presently we were capsized. We righted the boat by hanging to the keel.

"Three times this happened. The boat was full of water, but held up because of air tanks."

"One of the sailors drank sea water and went crazy. He attacked the mate with a knife and cut him severely before he was overcome. We bound the poor fellow, but he struggled to hold his head under water. We used all our strength in restraining him. Finally he died, and to lighten the boat we let the body wash away."

"All night there were no stars and the storm continued to rage. We had raised a bit of sail, which steadied the boat. About midnight we sighted a light. By dawn we ran past a lighthouse. The keeper signaled that we were headed for shore."

"In two hours we could see the beach. Presently a man, a woman and a child appeared. We learned that the youngster saw us first and said 'Look at the men coming without any boat!' for, of course we were mostly under water."

"We washed up on the beach and crawled out, with hardly any clothes. The woman said that it was no time for false modesty and she and her husband helped us to their bungalow, where we were given water, a careful dose of food and then permitted to fall on the floor, wrapped in blankets and sleep like dead men."

Addison is at his home in Fall River, recuperating strength after his trying experience.

His Hand Crushed

William Collins, a deaf mute, residing in Cabot street, lost the little finger of his right hand and had his hand badly crushed in an electric car accident, which occurred Saturday evening on the Nashua road beyond Mountain Rock. According to the story told by the motorman in charge of the electric car, Collins was laying in the roadway near the car tracks when the car, which was inward bound, came along. Brakes were applied, but the man's hand was run over. Collins was placed aboard the car and taken to the city, whence he was taken to St. John's hospital in the ambulance.

THIS IS "HORSES" ABOUT A COW

A balky cow, hitched to the tail-board of a Pelham man's wagon, which was being taken from a stable on Warren street to Pelham, stirred up considerable excitement in front of the Strand theatre at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Why the cow didn't want to follow along peacefully behind the wagon to its new home is unknown, but that's what happened, and the Pelham man decided to drag it along, whether or no.

Now a balky cow in itself is not of so great interest, but when its owner ordered full speed ahead with the protesting animal the pedestrians began to get peeved. A cow was a cow, said they, but was it necessary to use such a method to take it to its destination? In fact, they got thoroughly aroused, and some of these pedestrians, and finding mere words of no avail a call was sent in to police headquarters.

Two officers were soon on the scene; so, too, was Agent Richardson of the Humane society. He looked things over and told the Pelham man that the dragging idea was all wrong and induced him to unhitch Mrs. Cow from the wagon and lead her on foot while the boy who accompanied him drove the horse. Whereupon Mrs. Cow went peacefully on her way, the crowd dispersed, and quiet settled down once more on Lowell's busiest street.

FINAL PHASE OF GREAT WOULD BUILD PATROL COAST-TO-COAST RACE INTO FIRE MOTOR

MINNEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—With 12 of the 62 original starters safely across the continent and preparing to start on the return flight, the first half of the army air service transcontinental race between Minneola and San Francisco entered on its final phase today.

By sundown it was expected that the majority of the remaining contestants would have checked in at the two seaboard control stations. Only two of the 15 original San Francisco starters still in the race remain to check in at Minneola. Five already have arrived and the other eight have been forced out along the route by accidents. The two remaining flyers are Major J. C. Bartholomew, who spent last night at Rochester, and Lieut. J. L. Richter, who stopped over at Cleveland.

Of the score or more of west-bound flyers still in the race, nearly all had reached or passed Chicago and the majority were within a day's flight of San Francisco.

Lieut. B. W. Maynard the "flying parson" was preparing to start the night back from San Francisco at 1:12 this afternoon, but contestants who finished the first lap at Minneola displayed little enthusiasm for the return flight. All were severely fatigued by the trip east which was made under trying weather conditions and several expressed the belief that no practical purpose would be served by continuing the race. All stated, however, that they contemplated starting back if it proved possible to get their planes repaired within the 96-hour time limit set by the air service.

Other entertainers included James Clancy and Thomas Kelley. This was the first endeavor of the musical organization being perfected by the institute and judging from its success last evening, it should develop into one of Lowell's leading entertainment sources. The committee in charge of the dance included: Thomas E. Clark, chairman; William Collins, floor director; Michael Finnegan, Joseph Finnerty and Leo Callahan.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Developments over the double holiday, especially in the industrial situation, probably accounted for the confusion of speculation, sentiment at the opening of today's stock market. The market, which featured last Saturday's spectacular advance, were one to six points lower with steel and equipment, shipbuilding and railroads, and two points and many of last week's strong specialties. The reactions made further headway within the first half hour's trading.

Speculative issues were almost without support in the feverish first hour, investment shares also experiencing sharp reversals. S. Steel broke 4 1/2 points and many of last week's strong specialties were conspicuously weak. Recoveries of the second hour were led by oil, motors and steel at values of 10 to 15 points. Pro-nounced strength was shown by Industrial Alcohol, Chandler Motors and several minor specialties. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

The more severe losses of the morning were further reduced or altogether exterminated at mid-day. Motors and oil continued to rally, general markets resting on recent high record. Shipping, tobacco, leather and food shares, also strengthened materially with high trade values.

At the highest levels of the afternoon, motors and oil were considerably over last week's final quotation. Prices reacted violently, however, when call money rose to 12 per cent. The closing was weak.

MAY CHANGE SYSTEM OF SWILL COLLECTING

The collecting of swill in Lowell, which up to the present time has been in the hands of employees of the health department, may be turned over to private firms by contract in the future if plans now pending become realities at the regular meeting of the board of health to be held next Monday afternoon.

It was announced today from an authoritative source that the board of health had such plans in contemplation. Most of the garbage accumulating in Lowell is collected by the health department employees, but a large amount of it is gathered by private individuals licensed by the board for this purpose. At each meeting of the board new applications for licenses are received and under present conditions this can go on indefinitely. It is felt that if the collecting is centralized with one firm in charge, under the direction of the department, the work can be done much more cheaply and efficiently.

The argument has been advanced that the 25 or 30 men who are employed by the city in collecting garbage will be thrown out of employment, but in answer to this it is stated that the private firm to which the contract would be let, will take care of this. However, the matter will be threshed out at the next meeting of the board.

WILL SUPPORT REPEAL OF THEATRE TAX

Congressman John Jacob Rogers has practically pledged himself to vote in favor of the repeal of the law now in force providing for the payment of a tax on every theatre ticket sold in the country. Notification to this effect has been received by the Lowell Theatre Managers' association, through its president, Walter J. Nelson.

The association wrote to Mr. Rogers some time ago asking his support for the repeal of the war tax bill which went into effect Nov. 1, 1917, and which provides that every theatre-goer shall pay a tax of ten per cent. of the price of admission. Alfred S. Black of Rockland, Me., president of the Exhibitors' league of America, and owner of several local theatres, also requested the congressman to support the repeal and the result was the following reply from Mr. Rogers.

MUST REMOVE CHIMNEYS

Purchasers of Razed Buildings on Auditorium Site Face Forfeiture

Unless the owners of the chimneys and various other remnants of the buildings which formerly stood on the site of the proposed memorial auditorium in East Merrimack street remove them at once, they will stand an excellent chance of forfeiting the property, according to an announcement of the auditorium commission today.

When the tenement houses that stood on the site were sold at auction the understanding was that the property should be removed within a specified time. This time has already expired and Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department is soon to erect a fence around the entire site. Persons who are found within the enclosure thus formed will be liable to prosecution for trespassing. For that reason it is essential that the chimneys and other debris be removed at once.

It is understood that the purchasers of the tenement property have resold much of the brick work and other materials to other concerns or individuals without warning them that the site must be cleared at once. This is thought to account for the present situation.

It is probable that the auditorium commission will let out the contract for the building of the structure at its next meeting and if this is done, the contractor will immediately come into possession of whatever is on the site. Therefore, immediate action on the part of those owning anything now standing on the site is decidedly essential.

BOMB SQUAD ON DUTY

Two Alleged Anarchists on Trial in New York—Justice Threatened

NEW YORK, October 14.—With the name and address of every person entering the court room taken and more than a score of police and secret service operatives secreted through the building, the trial of Carl Tlazio and Gus Alonen, Finnish editors of the Class Struggle, charged with criminal anarchy, was resumed in the supreme court today under one of the heaviest guards ever assembled in a local court. Only nine spectators, besides newspapermen and witnesses, passed the police inspection.

Emil Kearna, a Finnish editor of Brooklyn, was called as a witness and identified the two defendants as having contracted for the publication of the February issue of the Class Struggle. The article complained of by the police as having advocated criminal anarchy was contained in that issue.

Today's trial followed the discovery late yesterday of incendiary circulars threatening the lives of Supreme Court Justice Bartow S. Weeks, Assistant District Attorney Alexander I. Rorke and Detective Sergeant James J. Egan, head of the police bomb squad.

PRES. WILSON'S DOCTOR TO CALL SPECIALIST

The annual outing of the members of Club Fleur-de-Lys was held yesterday afternoon at the well appointed quarters of the organization on the shores of Long pond in Dracut. The affair was attended by about 125 members and friends of the club and all spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

SUPERIOR COURT IN CIVIL SESSION

The case of the Middlesex Coal & Grain Co. of Bedford vs. George F. Dickey of Billerica, an action of contract by which the company seeks to recover a sum of money for alleged merchandise claimed to have been sold to the defendant, which went to trial at the civil session of the superior court last Friday, was brought to a close this forenoon.

The next case to go to trial was a triple action of tort brought by Joseph Marion, his wife, Marie Anne, and Napoleon Rondeau against undertaker Joseph Albert, all of this city. The ad damnum in the first action is $3000, in the second, $5000 and in the third, $3000.

The three plaintiffs allege that on August 12, 1918, they were requested by the defendant to ride in his automobile, and they did. They claim that while they were riding in the said automobile, through the negligence and careless driving of the defendant, the automobile was driven against a telegraph pole at the corner of Cheever and Pawtucket streets and as a result of the collision, the three plaintiffs were thrown forcibly against the walls and floor of the auto and were maimed and greatly injured in mind and body. In addition Mr. Marion is endeavoring to secure damages for the alleged loss of the domestic services of his wife. The defendant's answer is a general denial of each and all the allegations contained in the plaintiffs' declarations. H. V. Charbonneau of this city appears for the plaintiffs and Arthur L. Eno of Lowell and E. I. Taylor of Boston for the defendant.

THE STRAND THEATRE

This is anniversary week at the Strand theatre and in observance of this event the management of the playhouse has arranged one of the finest programs of photoplays ever given in this city. The big attraction is "The Majesty of the American," one of the latest productions of Douglas Fairbanks. Kitty Gordon is also shown in "Adele," while there is also a clever comedy as well as the usual interesting weekly. For the lovers of good music the Ample reproducing piano under the supervision of Richard A. O'Connell plays an exact duplicate of the concert given by the famous Russian composer- pianist, who was heard in this city last Sunday.

The story of "His Majesty the American" deals with William Brooks who lives on thrills and excitement because he has a secret sorrow and he forgets his troubles in the adventure he courts. He doesn't know who he is or who his parents were and his longing for a mother's love makes him seek oblivion in whatever will excite him so he can get into. He goes from New York to the Mexican border in search of adventures and then to Europe and the stunts he performs are most marvelous and really worth seeing.

"Adele" deals with a girl who is among the first to volunteer her services as a Red Cross nurse in France. Before leaving for Europe she meets Capt. Fraser, a young English officer, who has been in Washington on a diplomatic errand and is returning to the front. This young officer has an enemy in the person of Capt. von Schulz, who is doing his utmost to win Adele's hand. All in all the bill is one of great merit and at both performances yesterday was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audiences.

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.
